A Supplement to act No. 31-A, approved the twelfth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (One thousand Nine Hundred Thirty-five Appropriation Acts, page twenty-five), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare to pay the cost of administering the laws of the Commonwealth providing for Mothers' Assistance, Pensions for the Blind, and Old Age Assistance."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, some time ago the Committee on Appropriations appointed a subcommittee to get certain information from the Department of Welfare, consisting of the cost for administration of this particular law, and I would like to ask the Senator from Luzerne, who was Chairman of the Subcommittee, whether or not we have received that information.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, we have not.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if he can tell us why we have not received the information.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, my impression is, there is a reluctance to give the information we have requested, and we have not received the proper cooperation from the Department head from whom we requested this information.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask whether the information was requested as the subcommittee suggested to the Chairman it would be requested.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, the information was requested at a hearing at which the Bureau Head was present.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to thank the Senator from Luzerne.

Mr. President, in the first special session of the Legislature last year, in the month of August, we had the question of administrative costs before us very prominently, and also the question as to whether or not those on the waiting list entitled to old age benefits, blind insurance and mothers' assistance could or could not receive the amounts they were entitled to without a special appropriation by the members of the Legislature. At that time some of our friends when anybody attempted to get some sort on an understanding on the matter, threw more or less dust by saying that any questioning of the policies of the Department, or the amount of money needed, was a reactionary effort. Letters were written at that time to Major Pennington, and first he said the money was awarded and then, in a later letter, dated August 5th, he told us there was sufficient money if they took the amount of money they then had with the understanding that the Legislature would later on provide additional means to take care of all of those who were on relief.

Every member of this Senate, I believe, has been receiving requests from people who have for months been endeavoring to raise money, by local boards, for these people who are entitled to receive it; and for whom papers had been sent here to Harrisburg but no action taken on them. For that reason the subcommittee was appointed two or three weeks ago to endeavor to get this information; and it seems to me, Mr. President, that it is high time that the Legislature did know something about what it was doing in this direction. Now, I do not want to be misunderstood. I want it understood that I am one hundred per cent. for every man or woman receiving the assistance which they are entitled to under the law which was passed in 1933, and under the previous law for mothers' assistance. I do believe that we should get some control on this matter of cost of administration, because every dollar that is being unnecessarily expended in administration is a dollar at the expense of the taxpayer, or at the expense of the person who is entitled to relief and is not receiving it. I think probably all the members of this body are a unit on that proposition, and I am arising today, Mr. President, to call attention to the fact that this committee has not been able to receive this information, that apparently either the Welfare Department is in a muddled condition so that they cannot give it to us, or that the cost is to high they are unwilling to give it to us, and I am not sure but that this bill should be put over in order, although I am not going to make the motion, until we do receive the information that we have requested. We are reading a great deal in the newspapers and we are seeing all over Pennsylvania at the present time people who are going around advocating the Goodrich Bill, which would still further centralize, or at least entrench this relief system in a centralized government here at Harrisburg, and I believe that we, as one party at least, who are a two-horse team, if not a three-horse team, should know somethirng about what is happening, whether or not these people are getting the reliel that they should have, whether or not the Department does really need this $100,000.00 that we are giving. If they do need it, I am certainly glad to vote for it, but we would like to know just why this delay, and just how much the administration costs, whether the responsibility is on the local board at home, or whether the responsibility is here, and I do beleive that this Senate is entitled to the information, and the Senator fro Luzerne tells us that he has not been able to get it backed up by the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I think the Senate should be in possession of the full facts so far as this committee is concerned. I believe that when we were appointed as a subcommittee, we were appointed with certain powers to investigate and secure information which I believe that every member of the Senate should be familiar with. The committee has endeavored, in conference and by direct contact with the Department of Assistance to obtain such facts. We have obtained them in part, but there are certain definite things which we are very vitally interested in, and up to this date we have been unable to get the necessary data for us to report intelligently to this body. The head of the welfare department has been appealed to in the last couple of days, and he has assured us that he will personally see that we receive this information. The Senator from Susquehanna has in part appealed to this body to put this bill over. We realize that we have a very grave and definite responsibility in the matter of informing this body, but in putting this bill over we may work some hardship on those whom we seek to help. It would be bad if by our delay somebody would be deprived of the pension which belongs to them. and of which they are in very dire need and in distress. I do agree with the Senator from Susquehanna in saying that we are making these appropriations, and is endorsing and giving out funds without having the proper checkup to know whether those funds are distributed as we would have them distributed. I would say to the Senate that the members of the committee are determined and will proceed with this investigation, and in the event that this information is not available, I will ask permission to report back to this body to be clothed with sufficient power to proceed further in this investigation, until we are able to come back and tell you gentlemen "these are the facts, and for these reasons you are appropriating money for certain purposes."

I wish to add that we want to distinguish and distinguish very definitely in the minds of the Senators between the head of the Department of Welfare, who has shown a willingness to cooperate with us, and the Department of Assistance, from which we have as yet not received the proper cooperation.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to thank the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy, for the fine way in which he has explained this situation. I want to say this: That we cannot afford to stand in the way of any of these people, blind and others, receiving the assistance to which they are entitled. For that reason I am going to vote for this bill, but I do feel that the Chief of this Bureau should be severely reprimanded for his conduct and treatment of the Senate sub-committee, and that if it is necessary to clothe that committee with authority to bring him in, that should be done at the earliest opportunity.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I want to say that it was not my thought or intention to delay the bill, but that we clear the muddle so that these people will receive assistance more properly.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 508 (House Bill No. 1160), entitled:

A Supplement to Act No. 31-A, approved the twelfth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five Appropriation Acts page twenty-five), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare to pay the cost of administering the laws of the Commonwealth providing for Mothers' Assistance, Pensions for the Blind, and Old Age Assistance."

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 274, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relating to statutory laws; prescribing an enacting clause for statutes; fixing the effective date and time of statutes hereafter enacted; providing for notice of application for local and special legislation, for the correction of errors in statutes, and for the printing and publication of statutes; prescribing rules for the interpretation of statutes; defining certain words and phrases when used in statutes; and prescribing rules for the construction and operation of amendments, re-enactments and repeals of statutes.

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for further study.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I feel sure that the sponsor of this bill did not read it over carefully. It purports to be a bill to correct errors in legislation. In my opinion it is very full of errors, and at the end of the bill it contains a dictionary. Now, it is very good for the Senate to have a dictionary, but I think it is out of place to put a dictionary in a bill to which we must refer to find a definition of words in Acts passed ten or fifteen years hereafter. I have spoken to the sponsor of this bill, and he is willing that it should be recommitted.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

The main house drains may be decreased in diameter beyond a rain-water conductor or surface inlet by permission of the department or board or bureau of health when the plans show that conditions are such as to warrant such decrease but in no case shall the main house drain be less than four (4) inches in diameter

Section 9 The house or building drain must be provided with a horizontal intercepting trap placed [immediately] inside the cellar wall or as close thereto as practical allowing for construction circumstances and the approval of the board or bureau of health The trap must be provided with a hand-hole for convenience in cleaning the cover of which must be properly fitted and made gas and airtight with heavy brass screw-cap ferruel caulked and airtight with heavvy brass screw-cap ferrule caulked the board or bureau of health

Section 10 A fresh air inlet must be connected with the [house] drain just inside of the [house] intercepting trap Where underground it must be of extra heavy cast iron Said inlet must lead to the outer air and finish with an [automatic device] open grill approved by the board or bureau of health at a point just outside the front wall of building The fresh air inlet must be of the same size as the drain up to four inches

For five and six inch drains it must not be less than four inches in diameter for seven and eight inch drains not less than six inches in diameter or its equivalent and for larger drains not less than eight inches in diameter or its equivalent

Section 11 House or building sewers and house or building drains must where possible be given an even grade to the main sewer of not less than one-quarter of an inch per foot

Section12 When main sewer is not located on street house or building sewers must be constructed on outside of buildings and branched into each house or building separately and in no case will the sewer from one house or building to another be permitted to run through cellars

Section 13 Where the ground is of sufficient solidity for a proper foundation cylindrical terra-cotta pipe of the best quality free from flaws splits or cracks perfectly burned and well glazed over the entire inner and outer surfaces may be used if laid on a smooth bottom with a special groove cut in the bottom of the trench for each hub in order to give the pipe a solid bearing on its entire length and the soil well rammed on each side of the pipe The spigot and hub ends shall be connected The space between the hub and the pipe must be thoroughly filled with cement mortar made of equal parts of the best American natural cement and bar sand thoroughly mixed dry and enough water afterwards added to give the proper consistency The mortar must be mixed in small quantities and used as soon as made The joints must be carefully wiped out and pointed and all mortar that may be left inside removed and the pipe left clean and smooth throughout for which purpose a swab may be used It must not be laid closer than five feet to any exterior wall of a building or less than three and one-half feet below the surface of the ground or when the sewer passes near a well nor will it be allowed in bad or made grounds or inside a building with or without a cellar

Section 15 Floor French or other drains will only be permitted when it can be shown to the satisfaction of the board or bureau of health that their use is absolutely necessary and arrangements made to maintain a permanent water seal in the traps and be provided with check or back water valves where warranted

Section 16 All cast-iron pipes must be sound free from holes and of a uniform thickness known as "extra heavy" pipe and corresponding fittings will be required The pipe must be tested to fifty pounds water pressure and marked with the maker's name

Pipes shall weigh as follows namely

Two-inch pipe [five and one-half] five pounds per lineal foot

Three-inch pipe [nine and one-half] nine pounds per lineal foot

Four-inch pipe [thirteen] twelve pounds per lineal foot

Five-inch pipe [seventeen] fifteen pounds per lineal foot

Six-inch pipe [twenty] nineteen pounds per lineal foot

[Seven-inch pipe twenty-seven pounds per lineal foot]

Eight-inch pipe [thirty-three and one-half] thirty pounds per lineal foot

Ten-inch pipe [forty-five] forty-three pounds per lineal foot

Twelve-inch pipe fifty-four pounds per lineal foot

Section 18 All yards paved ramps areas and courts must be drained and sewer connected Such as gasoline or oil service stations and buildings of similar nature or construction [tenement-houses] Tenement-houses and lodging-houses must have the paved yards ramps areas and courts drained into the sewer and under no circumstances shall surface or storm water be allowed to drain over walks or driveways These drains when sewer-connected must have connection not less than four inches in diameter They should be controlled by one trap the leader trap if possible

French Subsoil Foundation Clear Water and Absorption Tile Drains Where subsoil drains are placed under the cellar floor or used to encircle the outer walls of a building the same shall be made of open-jointed drain tile or vitrified clay pipe and shall be effectively trapped before connecting into the building drain or building sewer or shall connect into the storm water drain inside the storm water trap The pipe must be laid on no less than four inches and covered with no less than six inches of crushed stone or gravel of medium size and arrangements made to cover the stone with a material to prevent as much as possible sand or dirt from washing into and clogging the stone or gravel bed and cover Where danger of basement flooding exists they shall be protected against back-pressure by an automatic back-pressure valve accessibly located before entering the building sewer or drain or they may discharge through a cellar floor drain provided with a back-water valve

Section 21 Inside leaders must be constructed of cast-iron galvanized genuine wrought steel or copperized iron pipe [or steel] with roof connections made gas and water tight [by means of heavy copper drawn tubing slipped into the pipe The tubing must extend at least seven (7) inches into iron leader pipe] Outside leaders may be sheet metal but they must connect with house drain by means of a cast-iron pipe extending vertically five (5) feet above grade level where the building is located along public driveways or sidewalks Where the building is located off building line and not liable to be damaged the connection shall be made with iron pipe extending at least one foot above grade level

Section 22 All leaders must be trapped with cast-iron running or P traps so placed as to prevent freezing and provided with hand-hole and brass screw clean-out plug Outside traps must have clean-outs brought to grade for convenience of cleaning Brass clean-out plugs to be caulked and made gas and water tight as herein before provided

Section 25 The smallest diameter of any soil pipe permitted to be used shall be [four] three-inch The size of soil papes must be not less than those set forth in the following tables

Maximum Number of Fixtures Connected to—

Size of Pipe	Soil and Waste Combined		Soil-Pipe Alone
	Branch	Main	Branch	Main
3 In.	7 fixtures	14 fixtures	3 water-closets	4 water-closets
4 In.	48 fixtures	96 fixtures	8 water-closets	16 water-closets
5 In.	96 fixtures	192 fixtures	16 water-closets	32 water-closets
6 In.	268 fixtures	336 fixtures	34 water-closets	68 water-closets

If the building is six (6) and less than twelve (12) stories in height the diameter shall be not less than five (5) inches if more than twelve (12) stories it shall be six (6) inches in diameter [A building six or more stories in height with fixtures located below the sixth floor soil-pipe four (4) inches in diameter will be allowed to extend through the roof provided the number of fixtures does not exceed the number given in the table]

All soil-pipes must extend at least two feet above the highest window and must not be reduced in size Traps will not be permitted on main vertical soil or waste lines Each house must have a separate line of soil and vent pipe No soil vent or waste line shall be constructed on the outside of a building A two inch relief vent shall be required for first floor closets where a main vent stack of three inch or larger is in place and fixtures are located above first floor

Fixtures with

One and one-quarter inch traps count as one fixture

One and one-half inch traps count as one fixture

Two-inch traps count as two fixtures

Two and one-half inch traps count as three fixtures

Three-inch traps (water-closets) count as four fixtures

Four-inch traps count as five fixtures

Section 26 All sewers soil and waste pipes must be as direct as possible Changes in direction must be made with fittings "Y[']'s" combination Y and eighth bends or half "Y[']'s" [branches] or one-eighth bends Offsets in soil or waste pipes will not be permitted when they can be avoided nor in any case unless suitable provision is made to prevent accumulation of rust or other obstruction Offsets shall be made with forty-five degree bends or similar fittings The use of T's ["Y's"] or sanitary T's will be permitted on up-right lines only Saddle hubbs when bolted or strapped on are prohibited

Section 27 Joints in cast-iron pipes and soil and waste-pipes must be so filled with oakum and lead and hand caulked as to make them gas-tight Connections of lead and cast-iron pipes must be made with brass sleeve or ferrule of the same size as the lead pipe inserted in the hub of the iron pipe and caulked with lead The lead pipe must be attached to the ferrule by wiped joint Joints between lead and wrought iron pipes must be made with brass nipple of same size as lead pipe The lead pipe must be attached to the nipple by wiped joint All connections of lead waste pipe must be made by means of wiped joints All connections for brass or copper pipe (which shall be full iron pipe size and weight) shall be screw joints properly secured

Section 28 Every sink bath tub basin water closet slop-hopper dental cuspidor and all outlets of chemical or experimental laboratory tables or any fixture having a waste-pipe specified defined herein or not must be furnished with a trap which shall be placed as close as practicable to the fixture that it serves and in no case shall they be more than one foot from said fixture The waste-pipe from one [the bath tub or other] fixture[s] must not be connected with a [water closet] trap of another

Section 29

[Horizontal and Vertical]	[Number of Small Fixtures]
1¼ inches	1
1½ inches	2
2 inches	3 to 8
2½ inches	9 to 20

Number of Traps Permitted on Various Size Waste pipes

1—1¼ Trap permitted on 1¼ Waste Pipe

2—1½ Trap or equivalent permitted on 1½ Waste Pipe

3 to 8—2½ Trap or equivalent permitted on 2 Waste Pipe

9 to 20—1½ Trap or equivalent permitted on 2½ Waste Pipe

21 to 44—1½ Trap or equivalent permitted on 3 Waste Pipe

If building is ten (10) or more stories in height the vertical waste-pipe shall not be less than three (3) inches in diameter The use of short pattern recessed drainage fittings or wrought-iron steel or copperized pipe for waste-pipe two inches or less in diameter is prohibited

The size of traps and waste branches for a given fixture shall be as follows

Kind of fixtures	Size in inches Trap	Branch
Water-closet	3 4	3
Slop sink with trap combined	3	3
Slop sink ordinary	2	2
Pedestal urinal	3	3
Stall urinals	2-4	2-4
Wall urinals	1½ 2 3	2 3

Laundry trays (2 or 5)	1½ 2	2
Combination sink and tray (for each fixture)	1½	2
Kitchen sinks (small) for dwellings	1½	1½
Kitchen sinks (large) hotels restaurants grease trap	2	2
Pantry sinks	1½	1½
Wash basin one only	1¼	1¼
Bath tubs 4x[10] 8 inches dum trap P or Running trap	1½	1½
Shower baths over bath tub	1½	1½
Shower baths (floor)	2	2
Sitz baths	1½	1½
Drinking fountains	1¼	1¼
Dental Cuspidor 4x8 Drum P or Running trap	1½	1½
Dish Washers motor driven	2	2

Section 32 All traps must be well supported and set true with respect to their water level [The sizes for traps must not be less than those given in the following

Traps for water closets four inches in diameter

Traps for slop sinks one and one-half inches to three inches in diameter

Traps for kitchen sinks one and one-half inches in diameter

Traps for wash traps two inches in diameter

Traps for (bowl) urinals one and one-half inches in diameter

Traps for washstands one and one-fourth inches in diameter] All bath-tubs shall be supplied with drum [-trap not less than three inches in diameter with three-inch trap-screws on floor line] "P" or running traps with clean-out trap-screw on floor or ceiling line In case where an additional fixture is required in a building and it is impossible to get re-vent pipe for the trap the board or bureau of health shall designate the kind of trap to be used This shall not be construed to allow traps without revents in new buildings or any one particular kind of an antisyphon trap No trap which depends for its seal upon the action of moveable parts or submerged interior partitions shall be allowed

Section 33 Safe or special waste-pipes must not connect directly with any part of the plumbing system Safe or special waste-pipe must discharge over an open water-supplied publicly placed ordinarily used sink placed not more than three and one half feet above the cellar floor

The [safe] waste from a refrigerator soda fountain Refrigerator case or bar fixture must be trapped with suitable traps [at the bottom of the line only] and must not discharge upon the ground floor but over an ordinary [portable pan or some] properly trapped and vented water supplied sink as above In no case shall the special [refrigerator] waste [pipe] pipes discharge over a sink located in a room used for living purposes

The branches on vertical lines must be made by "Y" fittings and be graded [carried to the safe] with as much pitch as possible Where there is an offset on a [refrigerator] waste-pipe [in cellar] there must be clean-outs to control the horizontal part of the pipe

In tenement and lodging houses the refrigerator waste-pipes must extend above the roof and not be larger than one and one-half inches nor the branches less than one and one-quarter inches [Refrigerator waste-pipes except in tenement houses and all safe waste-pipes must have brass flap-valves at their lower ends] Lead safes must be graded and neatly turned over beveled strips at their edges

Fixtures or appliances drained by Safe or Special waste-pipes include such fixtures as soda fountains refrigerators refrigerator cases bar fixtures ice boxes bottle coolers steam tables glass washers rinsing sinks bain maries air conditioning units sprinkler system drains house-tanks small or portable drinking fountains coffee urns and sterilizers

Section 35 Traps shall be protected from siphonage or air pressure by special vent-pipes Traps should not be more than approximately 24 inches from the vertical line serving the trap and of a size not less than the following tables

Size of Pipe	Maximum Developed Length in Feet	Number of 1-½ inch Traps Vented or Equivalent
	Mains	Branch	Main Vertical
1¼ inch vent	20	1
1½ inch vent	40	2 or less
2 inch vent	65	10 or less	20 or less
2½ inch vent	100	20 or less	40 or less
3 inch vent	10 or more stories	60 or less	100 or less

The branch vent-pipes shall be not less than the following sizes

One and one-fourth inches in diameter for one and one-fourth inch traps

One and one-half inches in diameter for one and one-half inch to two and one-half inch traps

Two inches in diameter for three inch to four inch traps

One-half their diameter for traps five inches and over

Where two (2) or more water-closets are placed side by side on a horizontal branch the branch line shall have a relief extended as a loop vent A pipe two (2) inches in diameter will be sufficient as a loop vent for two (2) closets A pipe three (3) inches in diameter shall be used as a relief for three (3) or four (4) closets and where more than four (4) closets are located on the same branch the relief shall not be less than four (4) inches in diameter All house or building drains and soil lines on which a water-closet is located must have a [four] three-inch main vent line Where an additional closet is located in the cellar or basement and within ten feet of main soil or vent line no relief vent will be required for said closet but where it is more than ten feet a two inch vent line will be required as for first floor closets Relief vent pipes for water-closets must not be less than two inches in diameter for a length of forty feet and not less than three inches in diameter for more than forty feet

Wall Hung Water Closets

The three inch vent stack for a single wall hung closet must be directly back of the closet or have a separate

two inch vent Where two wall hung closets are placed side by side on a horizontal branch each must have a separate two inch vent back of each closet Where three or more wall hung closets are placed side by side on a horizontal branch the branch line must have a relief extended as a loop vent A pipe three inches in diameter shall be used as relief for three or four wall hung water closets In addition to the separate two inch vent directly back of each closet Where more than four closets are located on the same branch the relief must be four inches in diameter in addition to the separate two inch vent directly back of each closet

No revent from traps under bell-traps will be required Connections between P traps and bell-traps should be made as hereinbefore provided

Any building having a sewer connection with a public or private sewer used for bell-trap connections or floor drainage only a two-inch relief line must be extended to the roof of building from rear end of main drain House or building drains constructed for roof drainage only will not require a relief vent

A floor-trap for a shower shall be vented [unless located in cellar or ground floor the paving of which renders the trap inaccessible] If the number of these fixtures on a branch is two (2) or more the waste line shall be extended as a loop vent instead of back venting the separate traps and when located in basement floor they shall be provided with a removable strainer or clean-out

Back vent pipes from traps above the floor must either be connected with crown of trap with ground in brass coupling or if connected solidly to trap must have a ground in brass coupling at wall

Section 36 Where rows of fixtures are placed in a line [fittings of not less than forty-five (45) degrees to the horizontal must be used on vent lines to prevent filling with rust or condensation except on brick or tile walls where it is necessary to channel same for pipe] ninety (90) degree fittings will be allowed Trapped vent pipes are strictly prohibited No vent pipe from house side of any trap shall connect with ventilation pipe or with sewer soil or waste-pipe Vent pipes from several traps may be connected together or may be carried into main vent line above the highest fixture Where one vertical vent line connects with another [a] an inverted "Y" fitting must be used Branch vent pipes must be connected as near to crown of trap as possible

Where future connections are left in the roughing of soil and waste lines vent connections must also be provided

Section 37 All offsets on vent lines must be made at an angle of not less than forty-five degrees to the horizontal unless building construction will not permit and all ines must be connected at the bottom with a soil or waste pipe or the drain in such manner as to prevent the accumulation of rust scale or condensation

Section 38 Rubber connection for back vents will not be permitted without double couplings and thimbles inside

Section 43 The closet and all other fixtures must be set open and free from all enclosing wood [or other] work [Where water-closets will not support a rim-seat the seat must be supported on galvanized iron legs and a drip tray must be used which tray must be porcelain enameled on both sides and secured in place] In tenement houses and lodging houses sinks must be entirely open set on iron legs or brackets without any enclosing wood [or other] work Iron enameled water-proof cabinets are permissible under sinks and lavatories

Any fixture removed from service either to be discarded or replaced with new by any owner must have the inspected approval of the inspection Department of Plumbing under whose jurisdiction it is/was at time of removal before it can be re-installed If after inspection it is found to conform with proper standard so as not to create a potential hazard to Public or Private Health it may be labeled numbered and certificate issued for its re-installation with no other limitations reserved No used Plumbing Fixture intended for Sanitary purposes or any that may be connected to the domestic water system of any dwelling or building can be installed without the inspection approval of the Department of Plumbing or Board or Bureau of Health

Section 45 All earthenware traps must have heavy brass floor plates soldered to the lead bends and bolted to the trap flange and the joint made permanently secure and gas-tight Iron closet bends and flanges are permissible on ground floors only where settlement is not likely to affect them

Section 46 Water-closets must not be located in sleeping apartments nor in any room or compartment which has not direct communication with external air either by window or air shaft of at least four square feet or mechanical ventilation equivalent to six changes of air per hour

When water-closets are located adjacent to kitchens or dining rooms an intervening vestibule of at least three feet square must be provided

Section 51 In all sewer-connected occupied buildings there must be at least one water-closet and one sink and there must be additional closets so as there will never be more than fifteen persons per closet In lodging houses where there are more than fifteen persons on any floor there must be an additional water-closet on that floor for every fifteen additional persons or fraction thereof

Section 52 In tenement houses lodging houses factories workshops and all public buildings (except single family homes) the entire water-closet apartments and side-walls to a height of [sixteen] six inches from the floor except at the door must be made water proof with asphalt cement title or other water proof material as approved by the board or bureau of health In tenement houses and lodging houses the water-closet and urinal apartments must have a window or windows opening into the outer air of sufficient size all of which shall be shown on plans and shall be subject to the approval of the board or bureau of health Except that tenement or lodging house three stories or less in height may have such window opening on a ventilating shaft not less than ten square feet in area If over three stories then said shaft must not be less than twenty-five square feet In all buildings the outer partition of such apartments must extend to the ceiling or be independently ceiled over and these partitions must be air-tight The outside partitions must include a window opening to outer air on the lot whereon the building is situated or some other approved mechanical means of ventilation must be provided to change the air at least six times per hour When necessary to properly light such apartments the upper part of the partitions must be of glass The interior partitions of such apartments must be dwarfed partitions

Section 59 Wooden wash-trays sinks or bath-tubs are prohibited (except sings in commercial or manufacturing establishments handling acids or other liquids that are subject to attack or destroy fixtures as hereinbefore specified) inside of buildings Such fixtures must be construed of non absorbent material Cement or artificial stone tubs will [not] be permitted [unless] when approved by the board or bureau of health

No fixture having a water connection either to or from any direct or indirect line of sewer or waste or vent pipe the construction of which will in any way create a potential cross connection between the fresh water for drinking or domestic purposes and the sewer will be permitted

Section 65 The term "private sewer" is applied to main sewers that are not constructed by and under the supervision of the Department of Public Works

The term "house-sewer" is applied to that part of the main drain or sewer extending from a point five feet outside of the outer wall of a building vault or area to its connection with public sewer private sewer or cesspool

The term "house drain" is applied to that part of the main horizontal drain and its branches inside the walls of the building vault or area and extending to and connecting with the house sewer

The term "soil-pipe" is applied to any vertical line of pipe extending through the roof receiving the discharge of one or more water-closets with or without other fixtures

The term "waste-pipe" is applied to any pipe [extending through roof] receiving the discharge from any fixtures except water-closet

The term "vent-pipe" is applied to any [special] pipe extending through the roof provided to ventilate the system of piping and to prevent trap siphonage and back pressure

The term "plumbing fixtures" are receptacles intended to receive and discharge any liquid water or water carried wastes into a drainage system or treatment works with which they are connected

The term "Safe or special waste pipe" is supplied to any waster pipe receiving the discharge from any fixtures or drainage appliance with or without water supply not connected directly with the drainage system

The term "dwelling" applies to any building which is designed for or occupied in whole or in part as the home residence or sleeping place of one or more persons either permanently or transiently

The term "one family dwelling" a separate building designed for or occupied exclusively by one family

The term "two family dwelling" (duplex) A separate building designed for or occupied exclusively by two families one above the other or an interior accessible door or passage way

The term "tenement house" is any house or building or portion thereof which is intended or designated to be occupied as a home or residence for three or more families living in separate apartments and doing their cooking upon the premises

Section 67 When drain soil waste vent and other pipes in the building connected or to be connected with the sewer have been placed in position a preliminary water or air test of the same shall be applied in presence of the plumbing inspector [an officer] of the board or bureau of health A maximum of a five inch column of mercury held for a period of twenty minutes is prescribed when tests are made with air

Section 68 When the work has been completed a final notice shall be filed with the board or bureau of health in the district issuing the permit When a final [air or peppermint] test shall be made in presence of said [officer] plumbing inspector with and by the use of such water connections as are connected to each respective fixture when if found satisfactory a certificate of approval of the work will be issued but no such plumbing or drainage work or system shall be used until said test has been made and certificate issued

Section 70 In case of any dispute or difference of opinion existing between the department or board or bureau of health and any person firm or corporation as aforesaid regarding the construction of plumbing house or building drainage or cesspools the same shall be submitted by either party to the director of the department of public safety or the presiding officer of the department or board or bureau of health together with the two plumbers of the examining board who are in no wise connected with the city or municipal government who shall pass upon the same and whose findings therein after hearing shall be final and conclusive upon all parties

Section 71 Any person or persons who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act regarding the procuring of a license or certificate to engage in or work at the business of plumbing [or] house or building drainage shall be liable upon conviction for a first offense to a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor exceeding fifty dollars ($50.00) for each and every day he or they shall engage in or work at said business without first having obtained said certificate or license and for a second offense in a like manner to a fine of not less than twenty dollars ($20.00) nor exceeding one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each and every day and for a third offense to a like fine as for a second offense or to imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days or both in the discretion of the alderman justice of the peace or magistrate together with costs of prosecution in each case and any person or persons who shall violate any of the rules regulations or requirements set forth in this act regarding the construction reconstruction or testing of plumbing house and building drainage or cesspools or water connections to private or public fixtures or equipment shall be liable upon conviction for [every such] a first offense to a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00) and for a second offense to a fine of not less than twenty dollars ($20.00) nor exceeding one hundred dollars ($100.00) and for a third offense to a like fine as for a second offense or to imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days or both at the discretion of the alderman justice of the peace or magistrate together with cost of prosecution in each case

[All fines and penalties imposed by this act shall be recoverable] All prosecutions for violations of this act shall be by summary proceedings brought in the name and for the use of the municipality or the Commonwealth as the case may be within or against which the alleged offense is committed before any alderman police magistrate or justice of the peace in [said cities] the county wherein the offense is alleged to have been committed [and all suits or actions at law instituted for the recovery thereof shall be in the name and for the use of the city within or against which offense is committed And upon recovery thereof] All [such] fines and penalties shall be paid to the [city] treasurer [thereof] of the municipality to apply to General Fund or to the Commonwealth for the use of the Department of Health as the case may be in default of the payment of any fine or penalty imposed by any alderman police magistrate or justice of the peace under the provisions of this act the person or persons so offending [may] shall be committed to the jail workhouse or other penal institution of the county [in which said city is situated] for a period not exceeding thirty days Provided however that in the case of third offense such period not exceeding thirty days may be added to the sentence of imprisonment

Section 2 That said act is hereby amended by adding thereto after section fifty-three a new heading and section to read as follows

Commercial or Experimental Installations

Section 53A Drainage installations for chemical manufacturing laboratories processing or other liquids used for commercial or experimental purposes that are subject to attack the materials hereinbefore specified for ordinary use such as gray cast-iron wrought steel or copperized iron lead copper or brass waste pipes are required and subject to submit to such rules and specifications for other kinds of materials as the local or state board or bureau of health may require In no case shall the materials used for this class of installation be less in quality or acid-resistance and strength than cast-iron containing fourteen and one quarter (14-¼) per centum to fourteen and three quarters (14¾) per centum silicon and not more than nine-tenths (0.9) per centum carbon and have sufficient strength to permit all joints to be caulked with molded lead in the same manner as other sail pipe hereinbefore provided Outlets are a potential danger and must be trapped and vented when left either for convenience or future connection No sanitary connection will be allowed to connect with an acid drain

Section 3 That sections fifty-four fifty-five fifty-seven and fifty-eight of said act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 383 (House Bill No. 133), entitled:

An Act requiring persons employing motion picture projectionists or operators to allow them at least one calendar day of rest in each calendar week said calendar day to be of twenty-four (24) consecutive hours

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 397 (House Bill No. 734), as follows:

An Act relating to consumer credit in amounts of one thousand dollars ($1,000) or less requiring licenses from the Secretary of Banking restricting licenses to domestic business corporations fixing minimum capital requirements conferring certain powers on the Secretary of Banking limiting interest and other charge providing certain exemptions and imposing penalties

Section 2 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 425, as follows:

An Act for the protection of the health and welfare of women and minors by regulating under the police power the minimum fair wages which shall be paid by employers providing for wages boards and defining the powers and duties of such boards and of the Department of Labor and Industry imposing duties on employers providing for directory and mandatory orders on employers and the publication of the names of employers who do not comply with such orders and providing penalties

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That

Section 1 Factual Background women and minors are employed in some occupations in trade and industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for wages unreasonably low and not fairly commensurate with the value of the services rendered Such a condition is contrary to public interest and public commands its regulation Women and minors employed in such industries are not as a class on a level of equality in bargaining with their employers in regard to minimum fair wage standards and "freedom of contract" as applied to their relations with their employers is illusory Judged by any reasonable standard wages in such industries are often found to bear no relation to the fair value of the services rendered Women and minors employed for gain in such occupations are peculiarly subject to the overreaching of inefficient harsh or ignorant employers and under unregulated competition where no adequate machinery exists for the effective regulation and maintenance of minimum fair wage standards the stndards such as exist tend to be set by the least conscionable employers In the absence of any effective minimum fair wage rates for women and minors the constant lowering of wages by unscrupulous employers constitutes a serious form of unfair competitution against other employers reduces the purchasing power of the workers and threatens the stability of industry The evils of oppressive unreasonable and unfair wages as they affect women and minors employed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are such as to render imparitive the exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of industry and of the women and minors employed therein and of the public interest of the community at large in their health and well being

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in reference to the next bill on the calendar (Senate Bill No. 13) will the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, state whether it is not true that under the existing laws persons receiving assistance under the present act would be required, if they have property assessed at $5,000, to repay the assistance received?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO . Mr. President, whether it is not true that under the present amendment, a person or his family if possessed of property, real or personal, to the extent of $5,000 or more, that under this present amendment the Commonwealth would not be able to get back the amount of assistance granted?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I believe there should be a line of demarkation, that when a person receives assistance he should be obliged to return the assistance. I am inclined to feel that there is a point where a person may have some property and still be entitled to assistance. I can see that if these cases were eliminated by law, it would work a hardship; but I also feel that we do not want to create a class of people by law who would be encouraged, if in the possession of property, who would look to someone to support them, without any intention on their part to return the money they received, when the properties they are possessed of might be convrted, and while I may not see merit in this bill, I feel the Senate should not place itself on record.

Last year, when we passed a bill here providing that no one should be deprived of relief if he received a bonus, as a result of that I heard of a party having a check in his pocket for $1500 walking into the Emergency Relief Board and receiving relief, and I would ask by what manner of means would a man do that? We ought not pass a bill which would encourage that kind of conduct. and there is no objection on the part of the Senator from Cambria, who is one of the proponents of this bill. I would like to move that this bill be recommitted to the committee to which it came, so that it can be given study and a proper compromise reached.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, this bill was introduced on the first day of this session. It is very simple. It states that any person receiving assistance of any kind shall assign his or her property back to the government. I know of a case in my town of about 8,000 people where thirty or forty individuals have acquired homesteads who found themselves in distress and then applied for assistance. Under our present laws, if they should die before they received that assistance, they must assign their property and give away all that they have fought and worked for, and I do not think that is right. I can agree with the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that possibly a person might have a home that might be worth $5,000 or $10,000 or more and apply for assistance, and probably after death someone might sell that home, and, of course, make a nice thing of it, but I do not know of any case in this Commonwealth where anyone who would acquire a home and spend $30,000 or $40,000 that they would apply for old age assistance. I would say that 95% of the people are in dire need and I see no reason that this bill should go back to committee. If we could pass it on second reading, and if the Senator from Philadelphia would like to make further amendments on the floor of the Senate on Monday night, we will give him an oportunity to do so, but I object to the bill going back to the committee.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I shall not insist on my motion to recommit this bill. I made my suggestion and have placed my reasons on record, and when it comes to a vote, if the Senator from Cambria thinks it should pass in its present shape, that is a matter for him to decide, and I will govern myself accordingly.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO ADJOURNMENT OF TAX SALES

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RANKIN offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, March 17, 1937.

Whereas, The authorities of certain municipalities throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are advertising or about to advertise tax sales, and have declined the requests of taxpayers to further postpone said tax sales until legislation can be enacted by the General Assembly for the relief of delinquent taxpayers; and

Whereas, The members of the General Assembly and many people and organizations throughout the Commonwealth are in favor of the continuation of any such tax sales so as to enable the Legislature now in session to enact appropriate legislation; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), that the General Assembly hereby directs the attention of the public authorities of the municipalities throughout the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the fact that, bills are now before the General Assembly authorizing the abatement of penalties and interest on municipal and other local taxes permitting the payment of such delinquent taxes by installments, and adjourning tax sales for a certain period, and therefore urges the public authorities of the municipalities in the Commonwealth to adjourn any tax sale which, under existing law, such authorities have authorized to be held during the months of March and April, 1937, until legislation may be enacted relative to the abatement of tax penalties and interest and the postponement of tax sales.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, March 17, 1937.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain Rev. EPHRIAM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

Our gracious Father we do acknowledge Thy universal Father book and we pray for the universal brotherhood of man. May Thy Spirit so permeate all mankind the world over that no nation or race of man will seek to do injustice or violance to other races or look down upon other races as inferior or with malicious jealousy. We are happy to join hearts with those who do honor to the memory of a leader of many centuries ago. Honor to whom honor is due without regard to race, color or blood. May this assembly labor in the interest of the common brotherhood of man.

In Christ's name—Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. BOLTZ the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 234 as follows:

An Act to re-enact the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred twenty-six) entitled "An act authorizing courts of common pleas to stay writs of execution against and tax sales of certain real property in certain cases providing for the continuance or return days of writs of execution and authorizing sales thereon without issuance of further writs" as amended

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred twenty-six) entitled "An act authorizing courts of common pleas to stay writs of execution against and tax sales of certain real property in certain cases providing for the continuance of return days of writs of execution and authorizing sales thereon without issuance of further writs" as re-enacted and amended by the act of March twenty-seventh one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws seven) is hereby further re-enacted to read as follows

Whereas The present economic emergency has brought increasing distress to home owners and farmers and

Whereas Foreclosures in this emergency work tremendous inequities to such persons yield a minimum of satisfaction to execution creditors and deprive families of shelter and means of subsistence thus endangering the health safety welfare and morals of the public

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same as follows

Section 1 Definitions That when used in this act the following words and phrases shall have the meanings respectively ascribed to them by this section unless the context clearly requires a different meaning

"Writ of execution" shall mean any writ of fieri facias venditioni exponas levari facias or any other writ or form of execution for the sale of any dwelling and the land appurtenant thereto or any farm where such dwelling or farm shall be occupied by an owner thereof as his or her residence or any proceeding for the sale of real property as herein defined for failure to pay taxes

"Real property" shall mean any dwelling together with the land appurtenant thereto and any farm occupied by an owner of such dwelling or farm as a residence

Section 2 Every court of common pleas of this Commonwealth shall have authority under the conditions hereinafter set forth to stay any writ of execution from time to time and for such periods as the court in its discretion may deem proper Such stays shall be allowed only upon application of an owner lienholder or any other person in interest and unless the plaintiff consent thereto only upon the applicant's showing to the court such facts as the court may deem sufficient to warrent such relief In granting any such stay or continuance the court may impose such condition as it deems proper as to payment of costs taxes accruing interest repairs advertising and notice of sale insurance and any other pertient matters

Section 3 In exercising the powers conferred by this act acourt shall have the discretion of a chancellor sitting in equity It shall be a sufficient reason for the grant of a stay hereunder that immediate execution sale against the real property would work serious inequity by reason of the economic emergency hereinabove referred to

Section 4 The stay of any execution under this act shall continue the return day of the writ of execution to the first regular return day for such writs which shall occur after a sale held under such writ In the meantime the writ shall remain in full force and effect and sale may be made thereunder without the issuance of an alias or any other writ

Section 5 The powers herein conferred on courts of common pleas shal be in addition to all powers now possessed by such courts to stay and otherwise control writs of execution against real property as herein defined

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon final passage by the Legislature and approval by the Governor and shall continue in force only until the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred and [thirty-seven] thirty-nine Provided That the provisions of this act shall not apply to the foreclosure of mortgages insured under Title II of an Act of Congress of the United States entitled the "National Housing Act" approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four

Section 7 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are suspended while this act is in effect

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 228, Printer's No. 317 was passed over at the request of Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 964 entitled:

An Act to amend section five A of article nineteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-one) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" as amended by changing the number and method of appointment of the civil service commissioners in said cities

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill onthird reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill proposes to rip out the Civil Service Commission of the City of Philadelphia. First of all I would like to give you a history of the bill and then you can judge for yourselves just the type of legislation it is.

The mayor of Philadelphia had an argument with the Civil Service Commission. There was a question about certain people that wanted to be placed in positions and whether or not they had taken an examination. First of all when the bill was prepared, they tried to get a Republican to introduce it but in the City of Philadelphia we believe that the Civil Service Commission as it is now constituted is just as good as it would be under some other form of appointment. We refused to introduce such legislation and today the Democrats are the ones who are sponsoring it. Now it is not even in the form in which it was originally prepared. The mayor sought to have a commission of five members, three to be appointed by him and two by the controller. In its present form it provides for the appointment of five members in this fashion: two to be appointed by the mayor, two to be apointed by the controller and the fifth member to be chosen by the other four, and if the four do not agree upon the fifth to be appointed in thirty days, then the Governor shall appoint the fifth member. There is certainly no reason why the Governor should appoint a Civil Service Commissioner in the City of Philadelphia or in the City of Pittsburgh or in any other place for that matter. I believe it is nothing but a bare faced ripper, and there is no possible justification for it. The bill does not suggest any changes in the law. I might say to you, very frankly, that possibly we could make changes in the civil service law that would be a real benefit to the City of Philadelphia and a real benefit, real assistance and protection to the employes of the City of Philadelphia, but this bill does not make any such suggestion at all. The only thing it does is to saddle an additional expense on the people of the City of Philadelphia. Each Civil Service Commissioner there receives $5,000 salary a year. We at the present time have three Commissioners. This bill, for no reason that I can see at all, proposes that we have five Commissioners so that it is simply going to cost $10,000 more a year at least to operate the Civil Service system

I would like to ask the members of the House to give this bill their earnest consideration and also to consider the fact that we tried to get a public hearing, not for the mayor, not for some associations or employes, but for the Commissioners themselves, men against whom no charges whatever have been made, men who so far as I know have performed their duties creditably, who have had no hearing, and yet we are supposed to vote for a bill to rip them out and to place an additional burden upon the people of the City of Philadelphia in the sum of $10,000. I ask the members of the House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in rising to ask your vote for House Bill No. 964, Printer's No. 231, we are doing something in line with what we are endeavoring to do, namely, to clean house.

The Civil Service Commission today in Philadelphia is purely a political commission. Under the present system the Commissioners are appointed by council, which is one hundred per cent aligned with one particular party. There are charges and counter charges today in relation to the administration of the Civil Service Commission, also controversies that we have arisen between the public officals of the City of Philadelphia in that the Civil Service Commision has become a disgrace and a bad feeling exists all around as far as appointments are concerned, among others that under the present set-up there has been a practical abandonment of the civil service system in Philadelphia. Appointments, transfers, re-instatements, promotions, dismissals, and so forth are no longer made in accordance with the true provisions of the civil service articles of the city charter, but they are made practically along political lines. This bill or amendment to the city charter providing for the Civil Service Commission intends to make the Civil Service Commission a real commission, so that the laws of civil service which we have in Philadelphia can properly be enforced. To this commission, as the bill proposes, the mayor shall appoint two members, the controller shall appoint two members, making it a non-partisan commission, and that these four shall appoint the fifth Commissioner. Now, the only other provision that the bill proposes is that in the case of a controversy the Governor may appoint a fifth Commissioner, but I will tell you, frankly, that the Governor in that case will merely act as an arbitrator, in the event that the four Commissioners are not able to agree on the fifth one. It is a necessary thing for the City of Philadelphia to purge the Civil Service Commission and the Civil Service appointments generally from the bad feeling which the people of Philadelphia have towards the Civil Service Commission today.

I would ask your whole hearted support for House Bill No. 964.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 749, entitled:

An Act requiring county commissioners to provide at the expense of the county telephone typewriter and stenographic services for the county superintendent of schools.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LA RUE. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Decker?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Centre permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DECKER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. LA RUE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Decker explain the purpose of this bill and how it will change the existing law.

Mr. DECKER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as you will note in the beginning of the bill there are two clauses, one providing that the superintendent of schools shall be provided with such telephone, typewriter and stenographic services as may be needed, such expense to be at the expense of the county. That is the first part of the bill. The second part, you will notice, provides for the repeal of certain acts, namely, Pamphlet Laws 706, the Act of June 1, 1915; Pamphlet Law 463, the Act of April 27, 1927, which was an amendment applying only to those counties that employed more than three hundred teachers. There was another act passed in 1929 which referred to counties of the second class only. These acts are being repealed; in fact, the new bill will be a blanket bill without restriction as to the number of teachers or the class of counties. In other words. It just makes it a blanket act covering all the above cases.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1223 as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 851) entitled "An act fixing the pay and mileage of jurors and witnesses" increasing the pay and reducing the mileage of jurors and witnesses

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 851) entitled "An act fixing the pay and mileage of jurors and witnesses" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted etc That from and after the time this act takes effect the pay of jurors in this Commonwealth shall be [three dollars ($3)] four dollars ($4.00) per day together with mileage at the rate of [six cents (6c)] four cents (4c) for each mile going to and returning from the county seat and the pay of witnesses shall be [two dollars ($2)] three dollars ($3.00) per day together with the mileage at the rate of three (3c) for each mile going to and returning from the county seat

Section 2 This act shall become effective on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Valibus.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VALIBUS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman be kind enough to tell us how he arrives at a three cent mileage rate for a witness and a four cent mileage rate for a juror?

Mr. VALIBUS. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Westrick, I wish to state that members of the jury will probably have to travel just a little longer distance from their homes to the court, to the county seat where the court is located. It takes them away from business and I felt that they should have the advantage in the mileage rate.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me we were setting up a scale of pay and mileage here which is not quite just. I am wondering if it would be agreeable to the sponsor of this bill to have the bill recommitted for the sake of making this correction. I cannot for the life of me see why a witness should receive three cents a mile while a juror is getting four cents. To me it looks like a gross injustice. Now I am wondering if such an arrangement might not be made.

Mr. VALIBUS. Mr. Speaker, I am agreeable to the suggestion of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Westrick, to have this bill recommitted to the Committee on Counties for the purpose mentioned.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. VALIBUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Counties for the purpose of amendment.

The mention was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1241, entitled:

An Act authorizing the recorder of deeds of any county of the third class to record or re-record, by a photographic or photostatic process or method, all papers required or authorized to be recorded or re-recorded by him; fixing the fees for such recording and re-recording; making such photographic or photostatic record or re-record or any photographic or photostatic exemplification thereof, legal evidence; authorizing the county commissioners to contract, purchase and pay for the necessary apparatus, equipment and supplies; authorizing the employment of skilled employes and assistants to operate the same; and providing for the fixing and limitation of their compensation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

An Act to amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers, fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined." defining the powers and duties of the Department of Internal Affairs in respect to the Pennsylvania system of coordinates.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scanlon.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCANLON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to explain this bill.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, the bill provides that the Secretary of Internal Affairs take over the control of the plain coordinate system, to be established by two similar bills to be introduced.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, what is the system of plain coordinates?

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that question because the two bills are still in committee.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION

BIRTHDAY CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. COAKLEY and VAN SICKLE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, March 17, 1937.

Whereas, It has been the pleasure of this House to learn that on March 17th one of its members will celebrate his birthday; and

Whereas, This member has been regarded as a good scout by all who know him, and the reason for his being so regarded may well be due to the fact that for years he has been very active in scout and welfare work in his own home town, not to overlook the additional fact that he is also a great lover of the out-of-doors and a great angler; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend to John H. Siegel of Williamsport, Lycoming County, their congratulations and wish him many, many more happy birthdays; and be it further Resolved, That the chief clerk of the House shall transmit a copy of this resolution to John H. Siegel.

STATEMENT BY MR. SIEGEL .

Mr. SIEGEL. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House I deeply appreciate the good wishes of my friends, and I appreciate the friendships I have made in this House.

While I am on my feet I might say that I have the honor of being named for a grand old Irishman who was a member of this House more than forty years ago, to be exact, he was a member in 1875, and if I remember correctly he served about three terms. His name was John Gaffey a Democrat from Lycoming County. So being an Irishman born on St. Patrick's day, I feel I am Irish by German consent.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. RICHTER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, March 17, 1937.

Pennsylvania mourns the passing of one of her beloved citizens.

Judge Donald P. McPherson died at his home in Gettysburg, Tuesday, March 16th, at the age of sixty-seven years. He was born in Gettysburg, a son of Edward and Annie D. (Crawford) McPherson, he attended the public schools of Gettysburg, then the Academy and was graduated from Gettysburg College with a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1889. He was a member of the Sigma Chi social fraternity and of the Phi Betta Kappa honorary scholastic fraternity of the college. He received his bachelor of laws degree at the Harvard Law School in 1895, was admitted to the Adam's County Bar January 23, 1896.

He represented Adams County in the House of Representatives at Harrisburg from 1901 to 1903, and was a member of the State Senate from 1903 to 1907.

Attorney McPherson was elected to his first ten years term of President Judge of the Adams-Fulton district in 1916, and re-elected ten years later. At the expiration of his second term he instituted the law firm of McPherson and McPherson, practicing with his only son, Donald P. McPherson, Jr.

Judge McPherson was a faithful member of the Presbyterian Church of Gettysburg of which he was treasurer.

The loss of Judge McPherson is keenly felt by the people of the judicial district which he served so long, and by the people of the State as a whole; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives, by the adoption of thse resolutions, expresses its sorrow over the loss of the Honorable Donald P. McPherson, as a former member of this House, of the Senate and of the judiciary of the Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the records of the House, and a copy be sent to the family of the deceased.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. OSTROFF, LEWIS, HESS, READINGER, TURNER, WOODSIDE, DeNOTE, TRONZO, and SHEPARD. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 54.

In the House of Representatives, March 17, 1937.

Whereas, the United States of America and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was founded by those who sought peace and security; and

Whereas, the world is now engaged in a mad race to arm and prepare for war; and

Whereas, at this stage of civilization it is time for the nations of the world to stop and think of peace rather than war; and

Whereas, every effort ought to be made and every step taken to establish peace for all mankind;

Now Therefore, Be it Resolved (if the Senate concur) that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does hereby memorialize the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, and the Congress of the United States to call a World Peace Conference to be held in Philadelphia during the celebration of the Suesqui-Centennial of the American Constitution, to which shall be invited the duly authorized representatives of all of the nations of the world in the interests of peace.

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, to his Secretary of State, to the Clerk of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States and to the members of Congress, and of the United States Senate from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

Whereas, The authorities of certain municipalities throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are advertising or about to advertise tax sales, and have declined the request of taxpayers to further postpone said tax sales until legislation can be enacted by the General Assembly for the relief of delinquent tax-payers; and

Whereas, The members of the General Assembly and many people and organizations throughout the Commonwealth are in favor of the continuation of any such tax sales so as to enable the Legislature now in session to enact appropriation legislation; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly hereby directs the attention of the public authorities of the municipalities throughout the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the fact that, bills are now before the General Assembly authorizing the abatement of penalties and interest on municipal and other local taxes permitting the payment of such delinquent taxes by installments, and adjourning tax sales for a certain period, and therefore urges the public authorities of the municipalities in the Commonwealth to adjourn any tax sale which, under existing law, such authorities have authorized to be held during the months of March and April 1937, until legislation may be enacted relative to the abatement of tax penalties and interest and the postponement of tax sales.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1937. 132d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 21. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 22, 1937. No. 32.

SENATE

MONDAY, March 22, 1937

The Senate met at 9 o'clock p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George Walker Buckner, LL. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty One, we rejoice in deep conviction of Thy providence. At this season, millions of our fellow-citizens are thinking of the rescue of their fathers from bondage, the turning of ther faces to the land of promise. We acknowledge our debt to this great people, who kept for us, and gave to us the Oracles of God. Today, millions of their sons and daughters are suffering shameless persecution. In the name of our common humanity, we pray for Thy deliverance.

Our Father, other millions are also thinking at this time of those tragic last days of Him who came, not to destroy, but to exemplify the law; who went about doing good; whom the common people heard gladly; who, alone, could say, "Which of you convinceth me of sin?" In the Sermon on the Mount He taught us how to live, and on Calvary He showed us how to die.

We thank Thee for the meekness of Moses, a norm of obedience; the gentleness of Jesus, a Spirit of Life. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 22, 1937.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

It is most important that we take action at once to end a disgraceful condition existing in our fourth class or rural school districts.

A total of 13,693 teachers in these districts, representing nearly one-fourth of all the elementary school teachers in Pennsylvania, are receiving wages below the minimum level for comfort and decency.

Despite their long years of training, and despite the great responsibility placed upon them, 9264 of these teachers are receiving only $800 a year, and 4429 of them only $800 a year.

I therefore most strongly urge that the minimum salaries of these teachers be increased to $1000 a year, which is little enough. This would affect approximately 2300 fourth class districts in Pennsylvania.

This will not only permit an approach to a living wage for these teachers, but will likewise enable a greater number of school districts to increase their terms from 160 to 180 days a year. Both of these factors will result in more advantages for pupils in these districts, in keeping with our desire to provide equal educational opportunity for all.

To provide revenue necessary for this salary increase I recommend enactment of House Bill No. 228, introduced by Mr. Patterson and Mr. Stank, imposing a tax upon stores, particularly chain stores. I am advised that under existing conditions this tax will provide adequate revenue to meet the additional burden imposed upon the School Fund.

The chain stores of Pennsylvania, which annually take millions of dollars from the pockets of our citizens—a large part of which goes to absentee owners in New York and elsewhere outside the State—are quite able to absorb this entire tax without adding one cent to the housewife's bill.

You may hear protests that this is not the case, but I need only remind you that in such situations you have only to consider the source. Remember that any individual or group receiving revenue of any kind from such stores, directly or indirectly, has a direct interest which makes impartiality difficult, if not impossible.

The truth is that even throughout the depression, when other businesses were going bankrupt, the chain stores of Pennsylvania were making large profits. One of the largest grocery chains in the State made an average profit of nearly $14,000,000 a year between 1929 and 1936. Six of the twelve officials of this chain last year received salaries of $100,000 each. Another large chain made an average profit of nearly $5,000,000 a year between 1929 and 1935.

Certainly with $14,000,000 a year net profit, such a chain cannot object to paying 700 odd thousands a year, which would be its share of the tax. Nor could it justify in any way any attempt to pass this on to the consumer.

Incidental to the main purpose of this bill, which is to raise revenue for schools, are several facts which have a bearing upon the desirability of this particular bill.

First. Chain stores, because of their large-scale operations, are well able to pay this tax out of their enormous profits without increasing by one dollar the charge to the customer.

Second. Chain stores have escaped their fair share of the State taxes paid by local merchants through juggling their corporate practices.

Third. Because of absentee management the chain stores do not possess the same public spiritedness as the thousands of small merchants they have forced into bankruptcy.

Fourth. The encouragement to independent merchants furnished under the chain store tax will help local producers, particularly the nearby farmers, upon whom the independents draw for their supplies.

I could give you many other reasons, but I am sure they will be adequately brought forth in the debate upon this measure. I firmly believe that in this case both the tax and its purpose will be productive of much good to the Commonwealth as a whole. Therefore I urge that the necessary legislative action be taken promptly, to the end that our smaller school districts, their pupils and their teachers, may be provided for in a manner befitting their importance to our Commonwealth.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 307, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section four Article two of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having ben read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President and members of the Senate, this is an amendment to authorize annual meetings instead of biennial meetings of the Legislature. It seems to me there are four reasons for proposing this: in the first place, we have had a series of extra and extraordinary sessions, and we might as well face the fact and set up a regular annual session in place of the extraordinary sessions. In the second place, it will simplify very much the make-up of the budget, as it is much simpler, of course, to make up a budget for one year rather than for two years, especially as we have to make up large sums of money for relief. In the third place, we generally have something like three thousand bills introduced in the Legislature at each of our regular biennial sessions. I happened to look in a Harrisburg newspaper yesterday, and found that the active representatives of Dauphin County had already introduced seventy bills. Now, naturally, there would be fewer bills introduced at an annual session, and, therefore, more time for the consideration of these bills.

It has been proposed, in New York State, I believe that in the odd-numbered years the emphasis would be placed on tax bills and other financial measures, giving them more consideration than we can here.

The fourth consideration has to do with that old proverb, "when the cat's away the mice will play," and in this case the Executive Department represents the mice. The Legislature is always the underdog, and we never get anywhere in our rights; but the oftener we come to Harrisburg the more clearly can we see our rights; the more we are here the fewer are the things the Executive Department can put over on us.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I regret exceedingly that I cannot agree with my learned friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward. I think the people of Pennsylvania would be far better off if the Legislature would meet less often. I would be in favor of an amendment calling the Legislature to meet "now and then, mostly then," for no matter how we divide these legislative sessions there will always be two or three thousand bills introduced, and every time you have a session the pressure groups get together and decide they have some ills which can be cured by legislative poultice plasters. The only thing this amendment will do is to have us here oftener than we should be, and increase our salaries from $2,500 to $5,000. I see no reason for either of them.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisons of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 383, on third reading, entitled:

An Act requiring persons employing motion picture projectionists or operators to allow them at least one calendar day of rest in each claendar week said calendar day to be of twenty-four (24) consecutive hours be recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 383 and Senate Bill No. 457, on the opposite page of the calendar, are companion bills, and I think you will find that Senate Bill No. 457 includes all the requirements in Senate Bll No. 383 and extends the provisions to include a greater number of employes. There is no reason for enacting both pieces of legislation.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I object to the motion to send this bill back to committee because of the fact that this bill applies specifically to certain operations of the moving picture theatre. The bill on the opposite side of the page is an all-inclusive bill, Senate Bill No. 457; and it may be in the mind of the Governor that he is not going to sign a bill including every employee in a motion picture theatre, whereas he may want to sign a bill covering a specific type of employees, where the very nature of the employment deserves consideration from this Senate.

Therefore, I believe the proper procedure at this time, by this Senate, is to vote in the negative on the motion to send this bill back to commttee, pass the bill, and, if it so desires, later, to pass Senate Bill No. 457, it is all right to do so; but I do believe that this bill, covering a specific operation in a motion picture theatre, should not be recommitted. I object, and ask the Senate to vote "No" on this motion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, as I disagree with my colleague from Centre County, Mr. Thompson, on his analysis of the two bills, I wish to be on record as being opposed to this moton to send this bill back; and I want [illegible] to show that I am voting against that motion.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, it is of no personal concern to me what happens to these two bills. I am in favor of giving these operators one day a week's vacation; I am also in favor of giving all other employees of the theatre a compulsory day's vacation each week. So, in view of the fact that we have the Sunday movies in many places in this State, I cannot see any more reason why the operator should be favored and the girl who is the usher in the theatre not be favored; they all should have the day's rest each week.

Now, as I say, I can see no particular reason for passing two bills; there is no use in cluttering up our statute books with bills dealing with the same thing, one bill being inclusive of the provisions of the other and extending beyond it. If the Senate wants both bills, that is all right as far as that goes; but if we pass Senate Bill No. 457, I see no reason for passing Senate Bill No. 383.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the bill under consideration at this time is Senate Bill No. 383. There is no one here can say how the vote will go on the bill on the next page of the calendar. I believe first things should come first. Let us vote on this bill now and decide later on what we will do with the other.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 297 (House Bill No. 384), on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to consumer credits in amounts of one thousand dollars ($1000) or less requiring licenses from the Secretary of Banking restricting licenses to domestic business corporations fixing minimum capital requirements conferring certain powers on the Secretary of Banking limiting interest and other charges providing certain exemptions and imposing penalties.

be recommitted to the Committee on Banking.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and con-

(c) All other acts or parts of acts of Assembly in conflict or inconsistent with this act or any part hereof are hereby repealed so far as they are inconsistent herewith

(d) The provisions of this act shall not affect any suit or prosecution pending or to be instituted to enforce any right or penalty or to punish any offense under the authority of such acts so repealed respecting any act done or omitted prior to such repeal

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 5, page 12, line 1, by striking out after the word "fit" and before the word "the" the bracket,]

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that these amendments are simply strike-outs.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, that is correct,—striking out a bracket put in by printer's error.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that it is not necessary to have the bill reprinted.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, in view of the fact that this is simply a strike-out, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the final passage of this bill.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, on this bill I propose to vote for it. I also want to go on record that it is my best belief that in its present form it will not pass the Attorney General's office; there are so many inconsistencies in it that it will not pass muster. However, I am going to vote for the bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 457 (House Bill No. 928), entitled:

An Act requiring persons employing others in or about motion picture theatres to allow them at least one calendar day of rest in each calendar week.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to state I am in favor of giving every employee in the theatre a day off. However, this bill is all-inclusive; it includes managers that probably operate under a salary of six or seven thousand dollars a year. It forces them to take a day off a week. It does not draw any line of distinction between the types of employment whatsoever. However, in order that there may not be any misunderstanding whatsoever, I am going to vote in favor of the bill, although I do believe that the bill should have more and better wording in it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 479, as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the eighteenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five (Pamphlet Laws 30) entitled "An act to authorize changes of venue in criminal cases" forbidding changes of venue in criminal prosecutions by any court on application of the Commonwealth or prosecutor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter in criminal prosecutions the venue may be changed by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania or the court in which the indictment shall be pending on application of the defendant or defendants only and not on applicaton of the Commonwealth or the prosecutor

Section 2 No writ of certiorari shall hereafter be issued by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to remove the record of any criminal prosecution thereto for the purpose of changing the venue on petition of the Commonwealth or the prosecutor but such writs shall issue only on petition of the defendant or defendants

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if this is not the bill prohibiting the change of venue by the prosecutor or the Commonwealth in criminal cases.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Senator from Bucks has the proper interpretation of it.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Fayette what the Attorney General thinks about the bill.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, as I am not the Attorney General's keeper in this case I do not know what he thinks about it. I have not counseled with him on the matter. When he gets it, after final passage, the Attorney General will pass on it.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 546, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding section one A

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth Article thereof

That Article nine be amended by adding thereto section one A as follows

Section 1-A The General Assembly may also by general law exempt from taxation a uniform value in money of the total taxable value of each person's real property in any one municipality or township

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, amending the Constitution is one of the few privileges which the underdog enjoys without any consultation with the Governor, and we cheerfully, last week passed a Constitutional amendment which has gone to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and which was to set up a graded income tax; but tied in with that was the homestead exemption.

Now, the amendment offered by the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, is a straightforward attempt to amend the Constitution for a homestead exemption without any application to the graded income tax, and in my opinion is a fair way to present the question; but, before we vote on this, I feel so strongly on this subject that I have to inflict a few words on the Senate from a book called "Public Finance"—third edition—by Doctor Lutz, of Princeton University. Doctor Lutz is more than a college professor; he has, for several years, been chairman of a New Jersey commission to try to coordinate the local tax system and bring down the cost of taxes in the State of New Jersey. He has this to say on the homestead exemption:

"Recently a movement for a so-called 'homestead exemption' has been spreading rapidly. It means outright exemption of all small residence properties, when occupied by the respective owners, and in some cases there is taxation of only a portion of a certain bracket of value above the exempt minimum. The figure commonly chosen is $2,500 or $3,000, with a possible fractional assessment on the value up to some higher amount.

"This measure is frankly advocated by realty boards and other groups as a device to stimulate home ownership. Its advocates assume the social desirability of subsidizing small home owners by relieving them of all contribution from the cost of the local government benefits and services which is ordinarily made from the property tax. They apparently assume, further, that the psychology of such a group will not be altered by the exemption, said that the beneficiaries will, as voters, scrutinize expenditure and bond issue proposals as carefully as if they knew their own taxes were to be affected thereby.

"This proposal is illogical, unsound and undemocratic. It is a serious blow to the productivity of the property tax, and it will imperil the maintenance of essential governmental service, such as education, protection and health, in which the small home owners themselves are vitally interested. The proposal draws support from its appeal to class and group prejudices, which has become a characteristic feature of the technique of taxation changes.

"Further, it is another instance of the refusal to seek moderation in taxation by effective expenditure control, for the heavy cost of government is thereby rolled over upon the larger properties while all incentive to curb expenditures is removed from a substantial group of voters. Moreover, it makes the tax bill the scapegoat for the other obstacles to small home ownership, such as the inordinate costs of building, the heavy expenses of land sub-division, sales promotion and the like. The property tax, though heavy, is only one, and hardly the most serious obstacle to small home ownership."

Mr. REED. Mr. President, and members of the Senate: I might say that the real estate owner has been misled for years. He has been promised a reduction in his taxes by various bodies, and each time he has been fooled. The only way, it seems to me, to get a reduction in taxation in real estate, is by this method, by fixing it so that there must be a reduction of the burden on the real estate owner.

Now, I think it is true that at the time of the adoption of the present State Constitution, 90% of the wealth of this great Commonwealth was in the real estate; today, I understand, 40% of the wealth of Pennsylvania is in real estate, and yet 85% of the taxes come from real estate. Now, the only way, I repeat, to get some relief for the man who owns a farm or home or other real estate is by this very method. This will force a reduction whether those who are against it like it or not, and I insist that the members who had been telling the farmers or home owners for years that they are in favor of the reduction of real estate taxes, now have an opportunity to show by their votes whether they are or are not in favor of it, and I ask the members of this Senate to vote favorably on this resolution.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to have another minute and a half in which to speak on this subject, for I forgot a foot note here:

"Repeal of the recently adopted Constitutional authorizing homestead exemption in Florida"—I hope the Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Changes will pay attention to this—"is advised by the Special Commission on Taxation and Public Debt. (Report, 1935, p. 123) See, also, the discussion of the effects of this exemption, ibid. pp. 79-83. The Utah Tax Commission, in its report for 1933-1934, pp. 15-16, states that had the then pending proposal for homestead exemption been effective in 1933, on a basis of $2,000 exemption, the revenue loss would have been $2,797,000, or 16 per cent of all property tax levies for that year."

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. WOODWARD, still has a half minute, of his minute and a half for supplement argument.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I did not intend to speak on this bill, but since the sponsor of this bill makes the statement that this bill is for the relief of real estate owners, I want to put on record my reasons for voting against it. First, I do not consider this a bill relieving real estate owners, but it is a bill creating another exempted class. We have been quarreling on and off for years to get rid of these exempted classes, manufacturers, and utilities, and now, instead of getting rid of exemption classes we are, by constitutional amendment, endeavoring to create another exemption class, and for that reason I shall vote against the bill.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I regret that I cannot agree with the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, that as Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Changes, I pay attention to the language of the book from which he was reading, but it so happens that the Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Changes does not read out of the same book as the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, does. There is all this sort of a misunderstanding here on the floor of this Senate, whenever we vote on a resolution proposing an amendment of the Constitution. It does seem that in the arguments advanced for and against the resolution, there seems to be an opinion that the adoption of a resolution of that kind is the passage of legislation. It is not the passage of legislation, but a resolution of this character proposing an amendment to the Constitution, must go to the people themselves for action, and it does seem to me that it is very democratic to propose methods by which the people themselves can say the kind of government that they want, and all resolutions proposing constitutional amendments, are acts of legislatures that do permit that to be done.

Now, this resolution must go to the people, and if the people of this Commonwealth do not want to confer upon the General Assembly the power to enact legislation exempting real estate, the people can so say by their vote at the polls, and I hope that the opinion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, that a thing like this is un-democratic will be changed, because it is very evident that whenever we do something here that asks the people to pass their opinion upon it, is the very thing that is democratic, and this resolution should be adopted and should be sent to the people for them to say whether this General Assembly, or others hereafter, shall have power to pass legislation exempting small homesteads from taxation.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, like the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, I did not intend to speak on this resolution, but in order that there may not be any misunderstanding as to the effect of it, I desire to call the attention of the Senate to the result that might accrue from the adoption of this resolution and the submission thereof to the people. I, like probably all of the Senators in this body, believe in reducing taxation on real estate, and if we get a graduated income tax, that will undoubtedly take place, and I believe in every person paying, be he rich or poor, something towards the support of this government. I also believe that if this resolution were submitted to the people, it would probably pass by 90% of the people, for the reason that a man would be a fool if he didn't vote to exempt his own property from taxation.

We must have money to run our schools, to support our roads and our county and local governments, and if we are going to exempt probably 75 or 80% of small property owners from taxation, the revenue will have to be obtained from some other sources, and it will result in a large per capita tax which will be more burdensome to more people than the loss would under the present condition, and we must be just before we are generous in a matter of this sort. I believe it is our duty to stand up here and vote "no" on this resolution, in order that we may preserve our government with that which our government resources are supported, and I consider this a very serious proposition and one which should be considered carefully and not voted upon hastily and sent to the people, because, as I said before, undoubtedly the people would naturally vote to exempt their own property from taxation; and I ask the Senate to vote down this resolution.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I wish to say that if we do not now have faith in the people and are afraid to submit this resolution to them, then I believe that the democratic government established by our fathers is close to an end.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Liquid Fuels Tax Fund for the payment of principal due on bonds issued for highways and bridge purposes.

be recommitted to the Committee on County Government.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 355, (House Bill No. 561), entitled:

An Act providing for the appropriation of certain waters of the Commonwealth to the Commonwealth for the benefit of the people thereof declaring void certain condemnations and appropriations of waters by municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons providing for ascertainment of the validity and the filing of certain condemnations and appropriations of water by municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons and appeals therefrom conferring jurisdiction on the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County in relation thereto providing for future condemnations and appropriations of waters by allocation of waters to municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons and for compensation for waters hereafter to be taken for public water supply purposes and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Water and Power Resources Board

The first section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all of the flowing water other than private springs or private water supplies of this Commonwealth now unappropriated by any municipality corporation copartnership or person is hereby declared to be appropriated to the Commonwealth for the benefit of all of the people of this Commonwealth subject only to such existing rights and uses as may now be lawful and no municipality corporation copartnership or person whether heretofore or hereafter created or which may now possess the right to take condemn and appropriate by eminent domain the waters of this Commonwealth shall hereafter take condemn or appropriate any water except as provided in this act

The second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 2 Any condemnation or appropriation of waters heretofore made by any municipality corporation copartnership or person heretofore authorized to condemn water which appropriation has not been followed by an actual taking of the larger part of the low water flow thereof heretofore or within a period of two (2) years after the effective date of this act is hereby declared null and void and of no effect except as to that part thereof actually taken Where Condemnation proceedings are pending in any of the courts of this Commonwealth at the date when this act becomes effective the actual taking of the large part of the low water flow of the water shall be within one year following the final determination of such proceeding otherwise the condemnation shall be null and void and of no effect except as to that part thereof actually taken

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I move to amend section 2, page 3, line 20, by striking out after the word "the" and before the word "part" the word: "S (large)" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: 'larger"

Mr. FREY: Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third, fourth, fifth and sixth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Section 3 No condemnation or appropriation of water heretofore made under the power of eminent domain claimed by any municipality corporation copartnership or person authorized to condemn and appropriate water shall be valid or binding unless within twelve (12) months or such further time as the board may grant after the date of approval of this act said municipality or corporation shall produce the record upon which such appropriation or condemnation is founded or prove to the satisfaction of the Water and Power Resources Board that such condemnation was lawfully made in accordance with law at the time said condemnation and appropriation was made and shall thereafter file a transcript or certificate of the resolution or record upon which said condemnation or appropriation is claimed duly acknowledged by the secretary and president of the municipality corporation copartnership or person in the office of the Water and Power Resources Board In cases where water has been acquired otherwise than by condemnation the municipality corporation copartnership or person shall file with the board a statement setting forth the manner in which the water has been acquired or on what its claim therefor is based Any party aggrieved by a decision of the Water and Power Resources Board may within sixty (60) days appeal therefrom to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and the taking of such appeal shall operate as a supersedeas

Section 4 Hereafter no condemnation or appropriation of streams or the waters thereof for public water supply shall be made by any municipality or corporation possessing the power of eminent domain except as follows

Any such municipalities or corporations desiring to condemn or appropriate new or additional water for public supply purposes for present and future needs shall first make application to the Water and Power Resources Board for leave to acquire designated waters appropriated to the Commonwealth by this act setting forth

1 The present source or sources from which water is now taken listing the streams and the quantity of water appropriated therefrom designating as near as may be the point or points from which water is taken or used and the amounts of water stored

2 The necessity for such new or additional source of supply and the river stream or other body of water from which it is proposed to be taken

3 The location and the population needing the supply

4 The amount of water which it is proposed to take

5 The plans for development of the water resources of the streams to maintain the stream flow and to utilize flood runoff including the capacities of any proposed impounding reservoirs

6 The names and addresses of the lower riparian owners who may be affected by the proposed developments

7 Such other provisions as the Water and Power Resources Board shall deem necessary

Section 5 The Water and Power Resources Board shall upon such application make such investigation as may be necessary and grant such hearing as may be required

The Water and Power Resources Board is hereby given authority upon such application to grant leave to acquire such part of the waters appropriated to the Commonwealth by this act to any such municipality or corporation as said application and the investigation thereon may show to be reasonably necessary to the purpose of the application

Section 6 All permits to acquire such waters of this Commonwealth appropriated by this act hereafter granted by the Water and Power Resources Board under this or any other law of this Commonwealth for public water supply purposes shall be for such term or terms and shall embody such conditions and stipulations as the board may deem necessary and proper to protect the present and future interests of the Commonwealth and its people in the use and distribution of its water resources

The board shall have the further power to revoke any such permit in case the source of water supply applied for is not developed in the manner set forth in the application or required by the permit of the board or if the work is not begun or completed within the time fixed by the board

The seventh section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

Section 7 The Water and Power Resources Board shall further have the power to impose by the permit a reasonable charge for the water so permitted to be condemned or acquired pursuant to a grant or allocation of water for public water supply purposes made after the effective date of this act at a rate not exceeding one dollar ($1.00) per million gallons and provide for the collection of the same and to impose such terms and conditions as may be reasonably necessary bearing in mind the character and navigability of the stream and the need of water for other purposes All moneys collected from such charges shall be paid into the State Forests and Waters Fund by and through the Department of Revenue

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move to amend section 7, page 6, line 21, by striking out the words "S State Forests and Waters Fund by and" and insert in lieu thereof: "General Fund"

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

SENATE BILL 355. HOUSE BILL 561.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this amendment would prevent the formation of a special fund in this Department of Forests and Waters, and would require that department to pay the money into the General Fund.

Now, we used to have thirty-three special funds, and we labored here for years to cut them down. We had a mattress fund, a dog fund, an undertakers' fund, and so on; and there is no reason I can see why the Department of Forests and Waters should be the pampered darling in this respect. Why should they not pay the money into the General Fund? Let them apply to the Legislature, and the Legislature will appropriate what they need.

This is, therefore, to transfer the money to the General Fund and not create a special fund. I see no reason for a special fund for this department.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, there are various other Departments which have funds that distinctly belong to them. I can see no reason why money such as this should not be returned to the Department of Forests and Waters, and I respectfully request that you turn down the Woodward motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RODGERS and Mr. FREY and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—9

Bean,	Heyburn,	Howell,	Pierson,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Mallery,	Wolfenden,
Deitrick,

NAYS—31

Cavalcante,	Henney,	McCreesh,	Rodgers,
Dando,	Jacobs,	McGinnis,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Sipe,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Rankin,	Sones,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,	Stiefel,
Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,	Woodward,
Haluska,	Law,	Roberts,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The eighth and ninth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to.

Section 8 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of the provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein

Section 9 This Act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

The title and preamble of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

An Act providing for the appropriation of certain waters of the Commonwealth to the Commonwealth for the benefit of the people thereof declaring void certain condemnations and appropriations of waters by municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons providing for ascertainment of the validity and the filing of the records of certain condemnations and appropriations of water by municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons and appeals therefrom conferring jurisdiction on the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County in relation thereto; providing for future condemnations and appropriations of waters by and allocation of waters to municipalities corporations copartnerships or persons and for compensation for waters hereafter to be taken for public water supply purposes and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Water and Power Resources Board.

Whereas An adequate supply of water is a matter of primary concern affecting the life health and comfort of the people of this Commonwealth and the supervision and equitable allocation thereof is an essential part of the police power of the Commonwealth which no Legislature could rightfully impair or barter away and

Whereas All of the flowing water of the Commonwealth by right belongs to the Commonwealth in trust for the benefit of all the people thereof and all uses of such flowing water must be regarded as subject to this sovereign right and

Whereas The increase of the population of the Commonwealth makes it necessary that the available supply of water be apportioned equitably and allocated for the best interests of all concerned

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 385 (House Bill No. 741), as follows:

An Act to amend the title and sections two and twelve and to repeal section five of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand five hundred eighteen) entitled "An act regulating the construction equipment maintenance operation and inspection of elevators outside of cities of the first and second and second A classes granting certain authority to and imposing certain duties upon the Department of Labor and Industry providing penalties for violations of this act and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act" by extending the provisions of said act to elevators located in cities of the first second and second A classes

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the title of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand five hundred eighteen) entitled "An act regulating the construction equipment maintenance operation and inspection of elevators outside of cities of the first and second and second A classes granting certain authority to and imposing certain duties upon the Department of Labor and Industry providing penalties for violations of this act and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 General Requirement Every elevator as described in section one of this act shall be so constructed equipped maintained and operated with respect to the supporting members elevator car shaftway guides cables doors and gates safety stops and mechanisms locking mechanisms electrical apparatus and wiring mechanical apparatus counterweights and all other appurtenances as to safely sustain the load which the said elevator is designed and intended to carry [Provided That nothing in this act shall be constructed to apply to elevators located in cities of the first second and second A classes]

Section 12 Registration of Elevators The owner or user of every elevator in this Commonwealth except [as exempted from the provisions of this act in Section 2] elevators located in cities of the first second and second A classes shall prior to December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine register with the Department of Labor and Industry every elevator operated by him giving the type capacity and description name of manufacturer and purpose for which each is used Such registration shall be made on forms to be furnished by the department

The owner or user of every elevator located in cities of the first second and second A classes shall register such elevator as provided in this section prior to December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven

Section 3 That section five of the said act is hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 385 (House Bill No. 741), the bill just read, be placed on the postponed calendar.

be recommitted to the Committee on County Government.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I understand that a different arrangement has been made by the proponent of the bill, Mr. Rupp, that this bill be given its second reading and then placed on the postponed calendar. In view of that arrangement I wish to withdraw my motion sending the bill back to committee.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is withdrawn.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 583, as follows:

PRAYER

The Rev. JOHN FRANKLIN KELLER, Pastor St. John's Lutheran Church, Fogelsville offered the following prayer:

Almighty God. Heavenly Father: Thou Who directest the destinies of nations and of men, we again invoke Thy divine blessing and wisdom upon these servants who gather from time to time at this historical place to solve the perplexing problems concerning the citizens of our State. Lead and guide them in thought and deed, that all is done without malice or hatred in their hearts and through their own consciences.

These are the ultimate servants and guardians of our liberties and welfare. Lead them to a proper understanding of their calling, and crown their work with victory for the interest and honesty of our State. We ask it in Christ's name. Amen.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 1 (Section 2), page 10, line 29 by striking out: with light face brackets the word "three" and inserting in lieu thereof "two and one-half (2½)"

Amend section 1 (section 2), page 10, line 29 by striking out the figure "(3)" and inserting in lieu thereof "(2½)"

Amend section 1 (section 2), page 11, line 3, by striking out the following: "two (2)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "one and one-half (1½)"

Amend Section 1 (Section 2), page 11, line 17, by striking out the following: "twenty-four (24)" and inserting in lieu thereof "eighteen (18)"

Amend Section 1 (Section 2), page 11, line 17, by inserting after the word "months" the following: "Interest on the unpaid balances, thereafter, shall be payable at the rate of six (6%) per centum per annum."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Banking Committee, the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Banking Committee, Mr. Flinchbaugh, if the amendments as proposed are not a reduction in the rate below the amount as set forth in the bill as it is now upon the floor of the House.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Delaware, I will say that the rates are reduced.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York whether this is not a Department bill.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, this bill was drawn up by the Department of Banking.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that the Banking Department made quite an exhaustive study and made a printed report, which was distributed at the time that this bill was introduced?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Delaware, I will say that my understanding is that the Banking Department did make an exhaustive study of this subject and afterwards made a report which was printed and distributed to the members of the House of Representatives and the public generally.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, therefore, based upon the Banking Department's report, the Banking Department introduced a bill calling for a rate of three percent, with a split of one hundred dollars, is that not true?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand these amendments, they represent a reduction from three percent to two and a half percent and from two percent to one and a half percent, is that not correct?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. That is correct, Mr. Speaker. The split is changed from the original split of one hundred dollars and raised to one hundred and fifty dollars.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in stating that these amendments would reduce the split from one hundred and fifty dollars to one hundred dollars, and would reduce the rate of three percent up to one hundred dollars to two percent net, and from two and a half percent up to one hundred dollars, to one and a half percent.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, if I understand the question of the gentleman from Delaware correctly, I will say that the split is still one hundred and fifty dollars.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that under these amendments the split is still one hundred and fifty dollars?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. That is my understanding, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. But the reduction, Mr. Speaker, is from three percent up to one hundred dollars to two and a half percent, and from two and a half percent to one and a half percent is that correct?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 That sections four and six of said act are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 4 Whenever payment is made on account of a loan to which the provisions of this act shall apply the person receiving such payment shall when payment is made give to the person paying a receipt setting forth the amount then paid [the total amount previously paid] on account of interest if any the amount then paid on account of principal if any and the amount remaining due on principal identifying the instrument accompanying the loan to which the payment is to be applied

Section 6 A Every person persons copartnership association or corporation licensed under this act or any partner director officer agent or member thereof who shall violate any prevision of this act or shall direct or consent to such violation [or who shall lend money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less and charge or receive for the loan or use thereof interest in excess of six per centum (6%) per annum without first having complied with the provisions of section one of this act] shall be guilty of a misdemeaner and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than five hundred ($500) dollars for the first offense and for each subsequent offense a like fine and to suffer imprisonment not to exceed six months or both in the discretion of the Court

B Every person persons copartnership association or corporation or any partner director officer agent or member thereof who shall directly or indirectly as principal agent or broker by any device subterfuge or pretense whatsoever charge contract for or receive any interest discount fees fines charges or consideration greater than six per centum (6%) per annum upon the loan use or forbearance of money goods or things in action or upon the loan use or sale of credit of the amount or value of three hundred ($300) dollars or less without having obtained a license under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred ($500) dollars or more than five thousand ($5,000) dollars or to suffer imprisonment of not less than six (6) months or more than three (3) years or both at the discretion of the Court

C No loan of the amount or value of three hundred ($300) dollars or less except as authorized by this act for which interest discount fees charges or consideration greater than six per centum (6%) per annum has been charged contracted for or received wherever made shall be enforced in this Commonwealth and the borrower shall not be required to pay any principal interest or charges whatsoever This provision shall not apply to loans legally made in any State which then has in effect a regulatory small loan law similar in principal to this act

D The payment of three hundred ($300) dollars or less in money credit goods or things in action as consideration for any sale or assignment of or order for the payment of wages salary commissions or other compensation for services whether earned or to be earned shall for the purposes of regulation under this act be deemed a loan secured by such assignment and the amount by which such assigned compensation exceeds the amount of such consideration actually paid shall for the purpose of regulation under this act be deemed interest or charges upon such loan from the date of such payment to the date such compensation is payable Such transactions shall be governed by and subject to the provisions of this act

E The payment of three hundred ($300) dollars or less in money credit gods or things in action as consideration for any sale of real or personal property which is made on condition or agreement expressed or implied that such property be sold back at a greater price shall for the purpose of this act be deemed to be a loan secured by such property and the amount by which the repurchase price exceeds such original purpose price actually paid shall be deemed interest or charges upon such loan from the date such original payment is made until the date such original payment is made until the date such repurchase price is paid Such transaction shall be governed by and subject to the provisions of this act

F When real or personal property is pledged as security on a loan of three hundred ($300) dollars or less and the lender requires the borrower to pay for insurance thereon or when the lender requires life insurance as a security to a loan of three hundred ($300) dollars or less such charge for insurance shall be construed as interest under this act when the lender has failed to have such insurence written by an insurance company legally authorized to conduct business in Pennsylvania When the amount charged for such insurance is in excess of the standard cost of similar insurance in other insurance companies legally authorized to conduct business in Pennsylvania the excess shall be construed as interest under this Act

An Act to amend sections one and two as amended and sections four and six of the act, approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 1012), entitled "An act regulating the business of loaning money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less, either with or without security, to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities; fixing the rates of interest and charges therefor; requiring the licensing of lenders; and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act," enlarging the powers of the Secretary of Banking; authorizing the Secretary of Banking to make rules and regulations and providing penalties for the violation thereof; requiring licensees to file annual reports; increasing the license fee; reducing the rate of interest on loans; increasing the penalty for operation without a license; and bringing certain transactions within the scope of the act.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 22, 1937.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

It is most important that we take action at once to end a disgraceful condition existing in our fourth class or rural school districts.

A total of 13,693 teachers in these districts, representing nearly one-fourth of all the elementary school teachers in Pennsylvania, are receiving wages below the minimum level for comfort and decency.

Despite their long years of training, and deposite the great responsibility placed upon them, 9264 of these teachers are receiving only $800 a year, and 4429 of them only $900 a year.

I therefore most strongly urge that the minimum salaries of these teachers be increased to $1000 a year, which is little enough. This would affect approximately 2300 fourth class districts in Pennsylvania.

This will not only permit an approach to a living wage for these teachers, but will likewise enable a great number of school districts to increase their terms from 160 to 180 days a year. Both of these factors will result in more advantages for pupils in these districts, in keeping with our desire to provide equal educational opportunity for all.

To provide revenue necessary for this salary increase I recommend enactment of House Bill No. 228, introduced by Mr. Patterson and Mr. Stank, imposing a tax upon stores, particularly chain stores. I am advised that under existing conditions this tax will provide adequate revenue to meet the additional burden imposed upon the School Fund.

The chain stores of Pennsylvania, which annually take millions of dollars from the pockets of our citizens—a large part of which goes to absentee owners in New York and elsewhere outside the State—are quite able to absorb this entire tax without adding one cent to the housewife's bill.

You may hear protests that this is not the case, but I need only remind you that in such situations you have only to consider the source. Remember that any individual or group receiving revenue of any kind from such stores, directly or indirectly, has a direct interest which makes impartiality difficult, if not impossible.

The truth is that even throughout the depression, when other businesses were going bankrupt, the chain stores of Pennsylvania were making large profits. One of the largest grocery chains in the State made an average profit of nearly $14,000,000 a year between 1929 and 1936. Six of the twelve officials of this chain last year received salaries of $100,000 each. Another large chain made an average profit of nearly $5,000,000 a year between 1929 and 1935.

Certainly with $14,000,000 a year net profit, such a chain cannot object to paying 700 odd thousands a year, which would be its share of the tax. Nor could it justify in any way any attempt to pass this on to the consumer.

Incidental to the main purpose of this bill, which is to raise revenue for schools, are several facts which have a bearing upon the desirability of this particular bill.

First. Chain stores, because of their large-scale operations, are well able to pay this tax out of their enormous profits without increasing by one dollar the charge to the customer.

Second. Chain stores have escaped their fair share of the State taxes paid by local merchants through juggling their corporate practices.

Third. Because of absentee management the chain stores do not possess the same public spiritedness as the thousands of small merchants they have forced into bankrutpcy.

Fourth. The encouragement to independent merchants furnished under the chain store tax will help local producers, particularly the nearby farmers, upon whom the independents draw for their supplies.

I could give you many other reasons, but I am sure they will be adequately brought forth in the debate upon this measure. I firmly believe that in this case both the tax and its purpose will be productive of much good to the Commonwealth as a whole. Therefore I urge that the necessary legislative action be taken promptly, to the end that our smaller school districts, their pupils and their teachers, may be provided for in a manner befitting their importance to our Commonwealth.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

(c) All other things and persons now taxable by the laws of this Commonwealth for county city and school purposes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1, page, 2 line 25, by inserting after the word "except" the following: "the production and distribution collection and treatment plants and facilities".

Amend section 1, page 2, line 26, by inserting after the word "transmission" the words "and distribution".

Amend section 1, page 2, line 26, by inserting after the word "water" the word "steam".

Amend section 1, page 2, line 28, by inserting before the word "rights" the words "lands and".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose these amendments because this bill as it now stands does not go far enough. We have heard in many public hearings of what they do in other states, but in the hearings which we have heard of this bill the utilities have not told us what they pay in other states. In every state in the United States the utilities pay the same taxes to the state as we do. But they go farther; they pay the same real estate tax as the home owner pays; they pay a right of way tax for the use of the streets, for the use of the railroads, and for their overhead wires, which we do not charge in Pennsylvania. When a pipe line leaves the state and enters into an adjoining state, or a railroad makes use of overhead wires, they immediately start to pay a right of way tax.

You have heard a message from the Governor in which he urged the enactment of a tax to help distressed school districts. In nearly all of the distressed school districts of Pennsylvania our lands are held by utilities, who do not pay one cent of local tax. When this tax burden is taken from utilities, where is it placed and placed doubly but on the home owner? If you take a parcel of any property out of a district and make it tax exempt, those remaining in that district must pay the tax for that exemption.

I urge the members of this House to vote down these amendments because let me point out to you the taxes paid in adjoining cities, in addition to the gross receipts tax. In the city of Trenton, which has a population of one hundred and twenty-three thousand people, they pay a local tax of three hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars. In Newark, New Jersey which has a population of four hundred and forty-two thousand people, they pay a local tax of four million four hundred thousand dollars. In the city of Cleveland which has a population of nine hundred thousand people, they pay a local tax of four million two hundred and forty-two thousand dollars. In the city of Baltimore, which has a population of eight hundred thousand people, they pay a local tax of ten million dollars. In Wheeling, West Virginia, a town of only sixty-one thousand people, they pay a local tax of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars, and I might add that they pay a gross receipts tax of three per cent. In the city of Buffalo, with a population of five hundred thousand people they pay a local tax of four million seven hundred and sixty-three thousand dollars, and the county in which Buffalo is located collects seven million dollars in local taxes.

Therefore I ask the members of this House to vote down these amendments because it is time to show the people of Pennsylvania that this House is not controlled by utilities.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, these amendments only tend to correct some of the exemptions that are in the bill at the present time. I do not believe in making fish of one and flesh of another. The amendments merely exempt power plants, transmission lines and steam lines, adding only to the exemptions that are in the bill now a provision exempting railroads, street railways, pipe lines, natural and artificial gas lines.

I ask the members of this House to vote for the amendments.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I ask for roll call.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I second the call for a roll call.

BILL AND AMENDMENTS LAID ON TABLE

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move you that the bill, together with the amendments, be laid upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLAND and Mr. MARINO.

Mr. PIOLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. FISS filed the following reasons for his vote:

My reasons for voting "No" on H. B. 228:

The bill discriminates.

The large department store which is nothing more than a number of stores in one, will pay one dollar, the chain stores one hundred in number would pay thirty five thousand dollars. The one hundred stores, a smaller corporation does his business but pays more tax. The out-of-state chain stores should be compelled to pay tax to do business in Pennsylvania. The tax means confiscation.

The Independent Grocers would also suffer according to the working of the bill.

The many department stores in the restuarant business.

The mail order Houses would reap a harvest at the expense of Pennsylvania businessmen.

Mr. SCHUMACHER filed the following reason for his vote:

I am voting "No" because I think this tax will be added to consumers cost.

Mr. STEWART filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting against House Bill 228, not because I am against the increase of teacher's salaries for I have a bill raising the salary of teachers of the fourth class to $1000 per annum and with increments (House Bill 139).

I believe the bill is class legislation and very unfair, hence I vote "No".

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 742 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives
March 22, 1937.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 742, Printer's No. 177, entitled "A supplement to the act approved the twentieth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Appropriation Acts page seventy-one) entitled 'An act to provide for the ordinary expense of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, providing for deficiencies or for supplementary amounts in certain appropriations for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven", be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 646, entitled:

An Act to promote the public health, safety, morals and welfare by providing for the creation of corporations to be known as limited dividend housing companies for the purpose of eliminating unsanitary and dangerous housing conditions, and constructing and operating safe and sanitary dwellings and apartments to be let at reasonable rentals, or sold; providing for the acquisition of property by the exercise of the power of eminent domain; providing for the supervision and regulation of the activities of such companies by the State Board of Housing in the Department of Health, and regulating the supervision by the State Board of any such companies aided by the Federal Government or agencies thereof; defining the rights, powers and duties of such companies, and of persons investing in or dealing with such companies; authorizing such companies to lease and operate, or to manage, projects of any housing authority, and borrow money from agencies of the United States Government; exempting all such companies from the payment of any capital stock tax; making certain securities of such corporations legal investments for funds in the hands of municipal officers, insurance companies and associations, savings banks and savings institutions; authorizing certain existing companies to accept the provisions of this act, and repealing inconsistent acts.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. BURROWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1217, Printer's No. 303, on page 20 of today's calendar, bill on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having called from the postponed calendar by Mr. BURROWS.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1217, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (a) of section nine hundred three of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within this Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; and making an appropriation and providing for refunds," as amended, changing the gross weight permitted for certain vehicles.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHUMACHER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I am not opposing House Bill 1217. This is an exact duplicate of House Bill No. 130 which I introduced on January 12th, and which was referred to the Committee on Motor Vehicles January 13, and is still in committee. House Bill 1217 was introduced March 3 by Mr. Burrows and Mr. Dyson, two Democratic members of this House, and referred to the Committee on Motor Vehicles, and was reported out of committee on March 10. This bill increases the gross load on a U license from thirteen thousand to fourteen thousand five hundred pounds.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that House Bill 130 is a very good bill, and I also think that House Bill 1217 is a very good bill, and I ask every member of this House to vote "Aye" on House Bill 1217.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative,

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 793 as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by changing the requirements for free transportation of pupils removing certain exemptions from the compulsory attendance act providing for standards for vehicles used requiring public liability insurance coverage authorizing the withholding of reimbursement in certain cases

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the second paragraph of section one thousand four hundred and four of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended by section seven of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 1152) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1404 The board of school directors in any school district in this Commonwealth may out of the funds of the district provide for the free transportation of any pupil to and from the public schools All vehicles hereafter purchased or placed in use for the transportation of pupils whether owned or hired by the school district shall conform to standards prescribed by the State Council of Education Such standards when promulgated by the State Council of Education may be revised not oftener than once each year and whenever new requirements are made they shall be published at least six months before they shall become effective and shall apply only to vehicles thereafter purchased or put in use

Section 2 Section one thousand four hundred and six of said act as amended by section thirty-four of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws 243) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1406 The board of school directors of any school district in this Commonwealth may on account of the small number of pupils in attendance or the condition of the then existing school building or for the purpose of better gradation and classification or other reasons close any one or more of the public schools in its district and upon such school or schools being so closed the pupils who belong to the same shall be assigned to other schools or upon cause shown be permitted to attend schools in other districts

[Provided That whenever] Whenever the average term attendance of pupils regularly enrolled at any one-room school in any school district of the fourth class or township which is a district of the third class is ten or less than ten the board of school directors shall close such school

If the board of school directors does not deem it feasible to close such school it may present its petition to the State Council of Education showing the reasons why such school should not be closed thereupon the State Council of Education shall consider such petition and shall make such order as may seem just in the premises [providing however] if any school as aforesaid has been closed because the average term attendance of pupils enrolled was ten or less than ten and has been re-opened upon an order of the State Council of Education and the average term attendance is twelve or more after such re-opening such school shall be considered re-established [Provided further That in]

In any district of the fourth class or township which is a district of the third class elementary school pupils who reside within that part of the school district last served by any elementary school closed since the first Monday of July one thousand nine thousand nine hundred and seven or within a district all of whose schools have been closed or who are assigned to a training school of a State Normal school and reside one and one-half miles or more from the school to which they are assigned shall be furnished proper transportation at the expense of the district to and from the elementary school to which they are assigned All vehicles hereafter purchased or placed in use for the transportation of pupils whether owned or hired by the school district shall conform to standards prescribed by the State Council of Education Such standards when promulgated by the State Council of Education may be revised not oftener than once each year and whenever new requirements are made they shall be published at least six months before they shall become effective and shall apply only to vehicles thereafter purchased put in use

[And provided further That whenever] Whenever the board of school directors in any fourth class district or township which is a district of the third class agrees to or is required to provide transportation for any pupils such board of school directors may upon petition of the parent guardian or person in parental relation to any of said pupils in lieu of providing such transportation pay for suitable board and lodging for such pupils if such board and lodging is secured in the home of a near relative of the pupil or in a proper school or home approved by the person making the petition [Provided That] [in no] In no such case shall the State's share exceed one dollar ($1.00) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is in attendance at school not exceeding five days in any such one week

[Provided That if] If the Department of Public Instruction approves the transportation as to methods and means and the contracts provided therefor the Commonwealth will pay annually to the school district furnishing such transportation [an amount determined by (a) the true valuation per teacher per district as provided by section one thousand two hundred and ten of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended and by (b) a given per centum of the sum which has been expended during the previous school year by such a school district for transporting pupils of said schools to and from said schools as follows The amount paid by the Commonwealth to a school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or less shall be seventy-five (75) per centum more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) sixty (60) per centum and more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) fifty (50) per centum Provided That in case said] an amount determined according to the following schedule of reimbursement to a school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or less ninety per centum (90%) more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) but not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) eighty per centum (80%) more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) but not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) seventy per centum (75%) more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) but not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) sixty per centum (70%) more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) but not more than one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) sixty-five per centum (65%) more than one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) but not more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) sixty per centum (60%) more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) but not more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) fifty-five per centum (55%) more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) fifty per centum (50%) In any case where any school district has purchased or shall hereafter purchase an approved school conveyance which is used exclusively for approved school purposes said [sum] payment by the Commonwealth for such transportation may include a reasonable charge for depreciation and repairs not to exceed in any year fifteen (15) per centum of the cost of said approved school conveyance [Provided That the]The State's share of such depreciation and repairs shall not exceed two hundred dollars ($200) per vehicle per year [Provided further That the State's share for] The State shall not pay transportation [shall not exceed] in excess of one dollar ($1.00) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is transported to and from school and any transportation charge in excess of this amount shall be paid by the local school district [provided further That districts receiving reimbursement on the basis of seventy-five (75) per centum and sixty (60) per centum shall not receive more than four thousand dollars ($4,000) in any one school year from the State for transportation Provided further That districts receiving reimbursements on the basis of fifty (50) per centum shall not receive more than three thousand dollars ($3,000) in any one year from the State for transportation]

Provided That no district shall receive from the Commonwealth in any one year more than eight thousand dollars ($8,000) as reimbursement for transportation

On or before the first day of July of each year each school district of the third and fourth class transporting pupils as herein provided shall present to the Superintendent of Public Instruction in such form as he may prescribe and on blanks to be furnished by him a sworn statement of the amount expended during the previous school year for transporting pupils to and from school as herein provided On the basis of such a statement the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall by requisition upon the State Treasurer pay during the month of September to such school district such reimbursement for the previous school year as is provided for in this act The State Council of Education may for cause specified by it direct the withholding of such reimbursement in any given case permanently or until the school district has compiled with the law or regulations of the State Council of Education

Section 3 Section one thousand four hundred and eight of said act as last amended by section four of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws 328) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1408 Where by the terms of this act or any other act any distance is specified between the residence of any pupil and any public school to be attended by him or any transportation is provided for within or beyond any particular distance in computing such distance no allowance shall be made for the distance that the dwelling house of the pupil is situated off the public highway All such distances shall be computed by the public highway from the nearest point where a private way or private road connects the dwelling house or the pupil with said highway to the nearest point where said highway touches the school grounds of the school to which pupil has been assigned [Provided That the] The free transportation of pupils as required or authorized by this act or any other act may be furnished by using either school conveyances private conveyance or electric railways or other common carriers when the total distance which any pupil must travel by the public highway to and from school in addition to such transportation does not exceed one and one-half miles and when stations or other proper shelters are provided for the use of such pupils where needed All private motor vehicles employed in transporting pupils for hire shall be adequately covered by public liability insurance in such amount as the board of school directors shall require

Section 4 Section one thousand four hundred and eighteen of said act as last amended by section one of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of March one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Phamphlet Laws 75) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1418 In case there is no public school in session within two miles by the neasest public highway of the residence of any child in a township which is a district of the third class or in a school district of the fourth class such child shall [be exempt from the provisions of this act relating to compulsory attendance unless proper free transportation] be furnished [to such child] free transportation to and from school [Provided] from and to a point on a public highway not more than two miles distant from the residence of such child All vehicles used for the transportation of pupils whether owned or hired by the school district shall conform to standards prescribed by the State Council of Education [if] For such proper free transportation [is] furnished to any child [under sixteen years of age] to and from school the Commonwealth shall reimburse any school district of the fourth class or any township which is a district of the third class furnishing such transportation in the same manner and amounts as provided for in this act for transportation of pupils from closed schools When it is not feasible to provide such transportation the board of school directors may in lieu thereof pay for suitable board and lodging for any such child Provided That in no case shall the State's share exceed one dollar ($1.00) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is in attendance at school not exceeding five days in any one week it shall be unlawful for any driver or owner of a vehicle transporting pupils under a contract with a school district or for any member of or board of school directors to demand request or accept any compensation for transportating pupils other than the compensation stipulated in the contract filed with and approved by the Department of Public Instruction

Section 5 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of the provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Section 6 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

But whenever anyone other than the defendant claims the right of possession or ownership to such seized property then in such case the officer may permit such claimant to have the custody of such property as in other interpleader actions pending a determination of the court as to who has right of possession or ownership of such property

(d) No defendant employer shall have the right to claim exemption on any wage claim when execution shall issue on any judgment obtained under the provisions of this act under any of the exemption statutes of this Commonwealth

(e) Any garnishee defendant shall be required to appear and make answer in any such action as required by law without havnig paid to him in advance witness fees but such witness fees shall be included as part of the taxable costs of such action.

Out of any recovery on a judgment in such a suit there shall be paid First the witness fees to the garnishee defendent second the wage claims involved third the sheriff's or constable's fees and fourth the court costs

Section 16 Separability of Provisions The provisions of this act are severable and if any provision is held to be unconstitutional the decision so holding shall not be construed to affect any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Section 17 General Repeal All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Ostroff?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OSTROFF. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman to explain section 14 of this bill.

Mr. OSTROFF. Section 14 of this bill, Mr. Speaker, provides that where wages are due an employe, the employe has the right to assign his wages to the Department of Labor and Industry. The Department then brings suit against the employer who has failed to pay wages in the name of the Commonwealth for the benefit of the employe, also it provides that more than one employe can assign wages against a single defendant and that should the assignment for that amount or for those claims be made to the Department of Labor and Industry then the one hundred dollar limitation will not apply, in other words where one or more employes are suing for wages the Attorney General is not limited to a one hundred dollar suit.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, we seem to have some difficulty on this side of the House to determine whether this bill applies to one hundred dollars or less than one hundred dollars.

Mr. OSTROFF. Mr. Speaker, one hundred dollars or less.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, from the wording of the section it seems to me to be very vague. I am wondering whether the gentleman will pass the bill over in order that it may be cleared up.

Mr. OSTROFF. Mr. Speaker, there doesn't seem to be anything vague about it. The section to which the gentleman refers reads as follows: "The Department of Labor and Industry shall have power and authority to take assignments of wage claims, rights of action for penalties provided by section 5 of this act to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) in the case of any one claim and shall have power and authority through the medium of attorneys appointed by the Attorney-General to prosecute actions in the name of the Commonwealth for the collection of such claims of persons who in the judgment of the Department are entitled to the service of the Department and who in its judgment have claims which are valid and enforceable in the court. The Department shall have power to join various claims in one preferred claim or lien and in case of suit to joint them in one cause of action. Where the Department joins various claims in one action the aggregate suit shall not be limited to one hundred dollars ($100)."

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the act says: "Shall have power and authority to take assignments of wage claims, rights of action for penalties provided by section 5 of this act to exceed one hundred dollars in case of any one claim." "To exceed one hundred dollars in the case of any one claim." Then it says: "Where the Department joins various claims in one action the aggregate suit shall not be limited to one hundred dollars. The bill says: "Shall have power and authority to take assignments of wage claims, rights of action for penalties provided by section 5 of this act to exceed one hundred dollars in case of any one claim. Where the Department joins various claims in one action the aggregate suit shall not be limited to one hundred dollars."

Mr. OSTROFF. The gentleman is correct, Mr. Speaker. There is a "not" missing. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this bill pass over in its order until tomorrow.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, a group of school teachers from all sections of the State of Pennsylvania have gathered here in this capitol city in the interest of legislation affecting our schools. A group of these teachers had planned a dinner conference at the Penn Harris Hotel in order to discuss their methods of procedure. Some of these teachers are from Philadelphia; some of them are from the particular district that I represent here in the Legislature.

When a group of colored school teachers joined with the group the management of the hotel informed them that it was not their custom and they would not serve. Thereupon the entire body of teachers walked out and refused to eat the food that they had ordered.

I know that this is not a law enforcement body, and there may not be any action that the Legislature can take in the face of such a situation, but nevertheless I want to commend with all the courage and force that I have, the school teachers for the courage that they showed in walking out in protest against such treatment. And with equal force I want to condemn the management of the hotel for such flagrant violation of the laws of this Commonwealth, and I want to condemn the management for such a damnable outrage against respectable, law abiding citizens here in this Commonwealth, and it is a shame that such an event should transpire under the very dome of the Capitol.

We have met here for Legislative business. Those teachers have come here not for social purposes but for business affecting our schools. I think it is a shame on the fair name of this Commonwealth that such a management, that caters to the Legislators and member of this Commonwealth should perpetrate such treatment as that upon law abiding citizens. These teachers do not represent any scalawags; they represent the cream of our race, the best of our citizens, intelligent educated people. I do here now condemn such an outrage as that which was perpetrated upon those teachers at the Penn Harris Hotel this evening.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the Honorable member from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard, is right. It is a shame—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on a question of personal privilege. If the gentleman will ask unanimous consent to make a statement I will not object. I did not make an objection when Rev. Marshall Shepard spoke, but the gentleman is not now speaking on a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The point of order of the gentleman from Delaware is well taken.

STATEMENT BY MR. TRONZO

Mr. Tronzo asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the Honorable member from Philadelphia, Reverend Shepard, was right. It is a shame. Just a few years ago, as a matter of fact during the last regular session, we passed some legislation in these very halls known as the "Equal Rights Bill". The purpose of that piece of legislation was to do for a certain class of people what the Constitution of this Commonwealth and of the country should have done. It seems that this piece of legislation does not have enough teeth in it. If it has not, we should put teeth in it. I do not know what right a hotel manager of any corporation, institution or whatever you choose to call it, has in telling free, law-abiding citizens of this Commonwealth that they can not do certain legal things within such places.

As I said, it is a shame. I wish that I could apologize, but naturally it is something beyond me. I can not apologize for them but I can condemm such action, and I condemn the policy adopted by the management of the Penn Harris Hotel, as I condemn any group or any policy that would prevent decent, honest, law-abiding citizens of this Commonwealth and this country from dining in a restaurant or a hotel room.

SENATE MESSAGE

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

STATEMENT BY MR. MOOMAW

Mr. MOOMAW asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement·

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, a few weeks ago this House passed unanimously Resolution No. 13, Printer's No. 87, which was presented and passed as a result of one of the most atrocious crimes ever committed in Pennsylvania. The Governor, upon receipt of information from the Department of Welfare, rejected this resolution. Apparently the Department of Welfare misinterpreted the provisions of the resolution, when I learned that the Department thought that a considerable expenditure would be necessary to carry out its provisions.

The Department of Welfare in its statement was correct in saying that this House is without power, except with the Gorvernor's approval, to cause an administrative department to make an investigation involving an outlay of their administrative appropriation. However, this resolution as it passed the House asked the Department of Welfare to submit information to the House so that they could determine what action they desired to take.

This information could all be obtained from data in the Department of Welfare or be quickly obtained through its routine operations, without a special outlay of money. I am informed the House is empowered to obtain any such data from any administrative department from time to time for its guidance.

Immediately upon learning of the Governor's disapproval, I discussed this matter with the Gorvernor's office, explaining what information was wanted, and they informed me they were accordingly asking the Department of Welfare to furnish the House the information called in the resolution. The information the Department of Welfare first furnished me was a report covering the Jean Seville case only and did not cover the provisions of the resolution.

I am now pleased to state that the Department of Welfare furnished me with the information, and I now wish to turn this information over to the House for the use of the Welfare Committee in order to make regulations to better protect these unfortunate children of Pennsylvania. I ask that this information be spread upon the Journal.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the report and information will be spread upon the Journal. The Chair hears none.

REPORT FROM DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE
CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY OF FRANKLIN COUNTY

The Children's Aid Society of Franklin County is a private agency, incorporated in 1884, with the purpose of caring for dependent and neglected children in the county. A small institution is maintained, but placements are made for most of the children in foster-family homes.

The Board of Directors, composed of men and women of good standing in the community, is very conservative. Within the last few years a number of people with more modern and progressive points of view have been elected to the Board but this group is in the minority.

The agency is supported by voluntary contributions obtained through an annual appeal to the residents of the county. The County Commissioners pay a per capita board rate of $3.50 weekly for children committed to the agency by the Court. The Directors of the Poor pay the board of those children referred by them to the agency. The Children's Aid Society has a small endowment fund, and $2200 is received biennially from State funds.

Most children are placed in foster-boarding homes, a few in free homes, a small group of older children in working homes. Some older children are working and continuing to live in their foster-homes.

Foster-homes are investigated before put into use. The investigation includes visits to the foster-home with some information secured concerning the social and educational background of the prospective foster-parents. This information with a description of the home is noted in the foster-home record. References given by the applicants are visited and the family physician is consulted. The agency aims to see four references. The information thus obtained is also recorded.

The foster-home records of this agency show nothing of personalities, of relationships within the family group, of attitudes toward children or of the particular strengths of the home which may be utilized in planning for children. Such information, which is necessary in choosing homes for children, is the kind of material sought by workers who have had preparation and experience in this. Nevertheless, in arranging placements, there is some consideration of the type child and of the qualities of the foster-home which may make it suitable for the individual child.

As has been indicated children are referred to the Children's Aid Society of Franklin County principally by the Court and the Directors of the Poor. In the former case preliminary investigations into the situation which make it necessary to remove the child from his own home are made by the Probation Officer. In the latter case the Directors of the Poor or the Children's Aid Society worker may make this investigation.

After placements children are visited frequently. The worker aims to make visits monthly but this is not always the case.

Children receive immediate attention in case of illness. Dental care is given. There is no program of annual physical examinations and a good mental health program has not been developed. Sufficient clothing is supplied and every effort is made to have this attractive and suitable for the individual child. Attention is given to recreation. Children are encouraged to earn money and at the end of the school period are assisted in obtaining work.

Efforts are made to continue the relationship of the child with his own family.

The Children's Aid Society of Franklin County now has under care 82 children. This presents a supervisory task too heavy for one worker. Of the 82 children, there are 17 in the institution and about 10 in the older age group.

The present secretary of the Franklin County Children's Aid Society is a local person, a graduate of Wilson College. She has had no special preparation for social work. Almost from the beginning of her service with the agency she has recognized her need for training and experience. She is an intelligent woman, well thought of in the community, and has the respect and confidence of her Board. In her work she is consciencious, interested and gives untiringly of her time. She does not have the case worker's awareness of the emotional needs of children and their understanding of the significance of behavior. This handicaps her in her tasks and stands in the way of rendering constructive assistance to children and foster-parents.

Attached is a list of the children under care of the Franklin County Children's Aid Society and the names and addresses of the foster-homes in which they are living.

MANNER AND TYPE OF SUPERVISION BY THE DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE OVER ALL CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETIES OF PENNSYLVANIA

March 10, 1937.

The Department of Welfare regularly visits all children's institutions and agencies annually when possible. Because of staff limitations it is sometimes eighteen or twenty-four months before succeeding visits can be made. In these supervisory visits information regarding staff, personnel, management, program, policies, and so forth is obtained through contacts with members of boards of directors, staff members, through reading records and visiting foster homes, as well as through contacts with other agencies and persons in the community. The names of all officers on the boards of directors are secured and listed in the Department of Welfare. The program and policies of the agency are discussed with these individuals as well as means for improvement in standards and personnel.

Information secured on supervisory visits:

Staff—qualifications, experience, attitudes, size, case loads, educational programs, attendance at institutes and conferences, office staff.

Financial support—appropriations from public officials, community funds, per capita payments from public funds or by individuals. How medical care and provisions for clothing are financed. Amount of board paid for children.

Intake—
- How applications for care come to agency
- Kind of investigation made
- Efforts made to keep children in own or relatives' homes
- Cooperation of child's own family in plan

Health program—
- Quality of service
- Physical examination on acceptance for care
- Correction of defects
- Annual physical examinations
- Dental program
- Mental health program

Placements—
- Foster-homes—how found and selected
- Foster-home and children's records read
- (choice is made by Field Representative in that she asks for record of a baby, adolescent, child presenting behavior difficulties, child recently received into care. Usually the record of the foster-home in which the child has been placed is read)
- Frequency and quality of supervision
- Special cases discussed
- Visits made with worker to a few foster-homes

Community Contacts.
- Relationship to other community agencies and to public officials

A report of each supervisory visit is on file in the Department of Welfare.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. SIMON offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 22, 1937.

Word has been received of the death of Honorable W. Howard Klepper, a member of this Assembly from Clinton County during the Legislative Session of 1913.

Honorable W. Howard Klepper, was born in Logan Township, Clinton County, Pennsylvania, July 28, 1860: was educated in the public schools, and was graduated from Lock Haven State Normal School in 1882; taught school in his native township for ten years, locating in Lock Haven for fourteen years, appointed deputy sheriff in 1906; served as school director for three years while deputy sheriff; elected sheriff of Clinton County in 1908.

He enjoyed a long fruitful life, much of which was devoted to public service and public interest; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby express their sincere sympathy to the members of the bereaved family; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be sent to the members of the immediate family of the Honorable W. Howard Klepper:

RESOLUTION

Mr. LaRUE offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the rules.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED ON DEATH OF EX-GOVERNOR EDWIN S. STUART

Mr. OMINSKY offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 22, 1937.

Former Governor Edwin S. Stuart has passed away after a long and useful career during which he had the honor of being Mayor of the largest city of Pennsylvania and Governor of his State.

The most unique feature of his career was his association with one single business—Leary's Book Store in Philadelphia—for seventy years. Beginning as a boy at the age of thirteen at a compensation of three dollars per week, he become the owner of the store at the age of twenty-two and remained the owner at the time of his death.

He was elected mayor of his city in 1891, at the age of 38, and Governor of his State in 1906. His choice for these offices by the Republican Party was in large measure due to his known integrity. In each instance charges of corruption in high office were present in the campaigns, but the voters of his city and State trusted him implicitly and in each instance he thoroughly cleaned up conditions after his election.

His most conspicuous service to the Commonwealth was his insistence that the charges growing out of the erection of the State Capitol Building be thoroughly investigated and as a result of this determined stand the guilt of men in high places was exposed and they were indicted, convicted and imprisoned, some of them refunding moneys to the State Treasury. Edwin S. Stuart kept his pledges.

Through his long life he was noted for his industry, and philosophical remarks on his seventy-first birthday came from a wide experience. Said he: "Every industrious fellow does not get along, but no man gets along who is not industrious—you may bank on that."

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania mourns the passing of this sturdy son of Pennsylvania and extends to the family its sincere sympathy in the loss they have sustained.

Resolved, That a committee of four Members of the Senate appointed by the President Pro Tempore, and four Members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, be named to attend the funeral of the Honorable Edwin S. Stuart are representatives of the General Assembly.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

RESOLUTION

Mr. ARNOLD offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the rules.

SENATE

TUESDAY, March 23, 1937

The Senate met at 12 o'clock a. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George Walker Buckner, LL. D., offered the following prayer:

Our God and our Father, in the name that is above every name, and we trust, in His Spirit, we would greet and grasp the countless tokens of Thy Goodness with reverent and grateful praise. What opportunities come to us this holy and historic week, for contrite meditation and noble high resolve! Discountng all carpentry of human conceit, the superstitions which have fallen as a shadow upon the journey to the journey's end, we would visualize the glory of a great life—the challenge of a great example. Forgive our fevirish ways. Steady our unstable hearts. May our lives be swayed by the passion of His infinite love. Amen.

HOUSE MESSAGES

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House had concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, March 22, 1937

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, March 29th, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, March 29th, at nine o'clock.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 582.

He also informed the Senate that the House had concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 852, entitled:

An Act to re-enact and amend the act, approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thiry-five (P. L. 519), entitled "An act authorizing and regulating the reorganization of banks and bank and trust companies," by extending its effective period.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 554.

He also informed the Senate that the House had concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 554.

An Act to amend the act, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 624), entitled "Banking Code," as amended, by further providing for the powers and limitations upon the acts of corporations or persons authorized to engage in a banking or fiduciary business or both, and of affiliates of such corporations or persons and of officers, directors, trustees, and employees of such corporations and persons.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF FORMER GOVERNOR EDWIN S. STUART.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 22, 1937.

Former Governor Edwin S. Stuart has passed away after a long and useful career during which he had the honor of being Mayor of the largest city of Pennsylvania and Governor of his State.

The most unique feature of his career was his association with one single business—Leary's Book Store in Philadelphia—for seventy years. Beginning as a boy at the age of thirteen at a compensation of three dollars per week, he became the owner of the store at the age of twenty-two and remained the owner at the time of his death.

He was elected Mayor of his city in 1891, at the age of 38, and Governor of his State in 1906. His choice for these offices by the Republican Party was in large measure due to his known integrity. In each instance charges of corruption in high offices were present in the campaigns, but the voters of his city and State trusted him implicitly and in each instance he thoroughly cleaned up conditions after his election.

His most conspicuous service to the Commonwealth was his insistence that the charges growing out of the erection of the State Capitol Building be thoroughly investigated and as a result of this determined stand the guilt of men in high places was exposed and they were indicted, convicted and imprisoned, some of them refunding moneys to the State Treasury. Edwin S. Stuart kept his pledges.

Through his long life he was noted for his industry, and philosophical remarks on his seventy-first birthday came from a wide experience. Said he: "Every industrious fellow does not get along, but no man gets along who is not industrious—you may bank on that."

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania mourn the passing of this sturdy son of Pennsylvania and extends to the family its sincere sympathy in the loss they have sustained.

Resolved, That a committee of four Members of the Senate appointed by the President Pro Tempore, and four Members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, be named to attend the funeral of the Honorable Edwin S. Stuart as representatives of the General Assembly.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE.

He also presented for concurrence bills of the House of Representatives, as follows:

House Bill No. 228, (Senate Bill No. 655), entitled:

In the Senate, March 23, 1937.

Whereas, the State Capitol of Pennsylvania is a veritable treasure-house of great paintings and inspiring murals, and

Whereas, the central themes of such great paintings as the "Apotheosis of Pennsylvania", "Penn's Treaty with the Indians", "Reading the Declaration of Independence", "Unity", "Lincoln at Gettysburg", "Washington delivering his Constitutional Address", "Valley Forge" or of the awe-inspiring murals adorning the Supreme Court Room of the State Capitol and known as "The Divine Law", "The Scale of Law", "The Golden Age", "Themis", "The Decalogue", "The Beatitudes", "Code of Justinian", "Backstone's Commentaries", "Spirit of William Blackstone", "William Penn as Law Giver", "Supreme Court of Pennsylvania", "Supreme Court of United States", "Supreme Court of the World", and "Disarmament", are of immense cultural and educational value to the people of our great Commonwealth, and

Whereas, the distribution of the reproductions of said murals, and the dissemination of descriptions and information pertaining to these classic paintings have not been heretofore commensurate with their scriptural majesty, awe-inspiring grandeur and thought-provoking value, and

Whereas, a planned and well-directed distribution of reproductions of said murals and paintings and the dissemination of descriptions and information pertaining to these great art-treasures of our State Capitol would be conducive to both an increased tourist-traffic in Pennsylvania and an enhanced interest in the glorious past of our Commonwealth, and

Whereas, "The Pennsylvania Manual" published by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and compiled under direction of the Bureau of Publications of the Department of Property and Supplies is the official primary-source-book of information pertaining to our Commonwealth, its government and institutions, and

Whereas, thousands of exemplars of said "Pennsylvania Manual" are being annually distributed throughout the nation and our Commonwealth, thus providing a channel for the dissemination of valuable information, and

Whereas, preparations are now being made for the publication of the forthcoming issue of "The Pennsylvania Manual" for the 1937-1938 biennium, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) that the forthcoming issue of "The Pennsylvania Manual" for the 1937-1938 biennium shall contain in addition to its usual material also a new chapter devoted to the description of the art-treasures of the State Capitol together with the reproductions of its paintings and murals, and be it further

Resolved that the President Pro-Tem of the Senate appoint three (3) Senators and the Speaker of the House appoint three (3) Representatives, who together shall form a Committee to write and to edit said chapter, and be it further

Resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to his Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania, and the Secretary of Property and Supplies.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in these days when we are confronted with complicated economies and political problems, willy-nilly matters of cultural and educational value must escape our attention. The resolution I have just offered embodies the humble tribute of a tyro Senator to the art treasures of the State Capitol.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I object. I believe this is too important a matter to be voted on at this time. This may or may not be the proper channel through which this information can best be disseminated; I think the matter should be considered by a committee.

The PRESIDENT. In the absence of an Art Jury, or Committee on Art, the Chair will refer the resolution to the Committee on State Government.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. HOLLAND. (Concurrent). RESOLUTION No. 55.

In the House of Representatives, March 22, 1937.

Whereas, A terrible tragedy occurred recently in the State of Texas where an explosion snuffed out the lives of hundreds of school children; and

Whereas, Such happenings should give us pause and impress upon us the necessity of checking hazardous conditions surrounding and in proximity of our public schools; and

Whereas, Many stations for the sale of petroleum products are located in close proximity to school buildings and may constitute a hazard to school children; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Pennsylvania State Police be directed to make a survey of the school buildings of this Commonwealth, directly or through its assistants in the various governmental units, in order to ascertain what, if any, hazards to life exists, and to take such steps as may be required to see that such hazards are eliminated.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Pennsylvania State Police by the Chief Clerk of the House.

Referred to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

By Mr. ARNOLD. (Concurrent). RESOLUTION No. 56.

In the House of Representatives, March 22, 1937.

Whereas, Crime and lawlessness within the State and Nation has grown to such gigantic proportions that no citizen is exempt from contributing, through direct or indirect taxation, moneys for the suppression of crime and for the maintenance of criminals in institutions; and

Whereas, Statistics show that a very large proportion of criminals are below legal age; and

Whereas, It is the common purpose of religious creeds and sects, all of which are recognized and given unrestricted freedom under the Constitution, to discourage lawlessness, dishonesty and crime; and

Whereas, It is accepted as a truth that the future of most persons is shaped by the teachings imparted to, and the environment of, youths during their elementary school period; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a joint legislative committee is hereby created which shall consist of three Senators appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and six Members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, whose duty it shall be to study and survey the possibility of preparing and incorporating in the elementary curriculum of our public schools an acceptable course of study having for its object the education of youth in the evil effects of crime and improper association and illustrating from the lives of others the successes which may be achieved by those who live honest lives and the failures which result from dishonesty and crime.

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly, accompanied by such drafts of legislation, if any, as it deems necessary to accomplish the purpose of this resolution.

Resolved, That an item of appropriation of one thousand dollars ($1,000) be inserted in the general appropriation bill to pay the expenses of said committee.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

By Mr. LaRUE. (Concurrent). RESOLUTION No. 57.

In the House of Representatives, March 22, 1937.

Whereas, The Water and Power Resources Board of the Department of Forests and Waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, has through a survey and study by its engineers become conversant with flood conditions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the necessities and requirements in connection therewith in relation to the waters and property in the Commonwealth and the effect on property values and natural resources; and

Whereas, The engineers of the War Department of the United States of America have in connection with flood control directed their attention, particularly to the matter of interstate control and regulation; and

Whereas, The Water and Power Resources Board of the Department of Forests and Waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been authorized and empowered to proceed with the actual necessary plans and work for flood control in consequence of the enactment under date of the tenth day of March, 1937, of the act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, known as the Flood Control Bill; and

Whereas, The effectual carrying out of the authority now vested in the Water and Power Resources Board of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with relation to flood control will be effected by the cooperation of the engineers of the said board and the Army Engineers; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly hereby petitions the Federal Government and especially its Army Engineers to cooperate with the Water and Power Resources Board of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and its engineers in the matter of flood control in the waters and lands in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the War Department by the Chif Clerk of this House.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 22, 1937.

Former Governor Edwin S. Stuart has passed away after a long and useful career during which he had the honor of being Mayor of the largest city of Pennsylvania and Governor of his State.

The most unique feature of his career was his association with one single business—Leary's Book Store in Philadelphia—for seventy years. Beginning as a boy at the age of thirteen at a compensation of three dollars per dollars per week, he became the owner of the store at the age of twenty-two and remained the owner at the time of his death.

He was elected Mayor of his city in 1891, at the age of thirty-eight, and Governor of his State in 1901. His choice for these offices by the Republican Party in large measure due to his integrity. In each instance charges of corruption in high office were present in the campaigns, but the voters of his city and State trusted him implicitly and in each instance he thoroughly cleaned up conditions after his election.

His most conspicuous service to the Commonwealth was his insistence that the charges growing out of the erection of the State Capitol Building be thoroughly investigated and as a result of this determined stand the guilt of men in high places was exposed and they were indicted, convicted and imprisoned, some of them refunding moneys to the State Treasury. Edwin S. Stuart kept his pledges.

Through his long life he was noted for his industry, and philosophical remarks on his seventy-first birth-day came from a wide experience. Said he: "Every industrious fellow does not get along, but no man gets along who is not industrious—you can bank on that."

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania mourns the passing of this sturdy son of Pennsylvania and extends to the family its sincere sympathy in the loss they have sustained.

Resolved, That a committee of four Members of the Senate appointed by the President Pro Tempore, and four Members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, be named to attend the funeral of the Honorable Edwin S. Stuart as representatives of the General Assembly.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family by the Chief Clerk of this House.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF EX-GOVERNOR EDWIN S. STUART

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to the House Resolution which was concurred in by the Senate and which has just been read, the Chair appoints as a committee on the part of the House, to attend the funeral of Ex-Governor Edwin S. Stuart:

Messrs. Ominsky, Flannery, Robert S. Hamilton and Stockham.

An Act to validate and confirm certain contracts heretofore entered into by boards of school directors where there is no evidence of fraud or conspiracy and to authorize ratify confirm and validate payments on such contracts by the school district.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will declare a recess for thirty minutes for the purpose of holding a caucus of the Democratic members.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask for a caucus of the Republican members to be held in the Senate Caucus Room.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and declares a recess for thirty minutes.

AFTER RECESS

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order

HOUSE BILL No. 64 AND AMENDMENTS TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 64, Printers No. 169, together with the amendments which were placed upon the table on Monday, March 22 be taken from the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to withdraw my amendments.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield until we act on the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the Speaker's ruling to be that the withdrawal of the amendments will have to await action on the motion of the gentleman from York to take the bill, together with the amendments, from the table?

The SPEAKER. That is the ruling of the Chair.

Mr. TURNER. Then, Mr. Speaker, may I ask if the motion of the gentleman from York is debateable.

The SPEAKER. The motion is not debateable under Rule 53 of the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. An interrogation is not in order at this time. An interrogation is a form of debate.

Mr. TURNER. I understand, Mr. Speaker, that I am restricted in debate on this question. However, it seems to me that I am within my rights when I say that I am opposed to the motion to take the bill, together with the amendments from the table.

On the guestion recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNER and Mr. LONGAKER, and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I wish at this time to withdraw the amendments which I submitted to House Bill No. 64.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOURISHIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Luzerne whether the amendments which he has just withdrawn, were not the amendments which would have taken out of the act or would have exempted generating stations?

Mr. YOURISHIN. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. And water plants, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. YOURISHIN. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the amendments just withdrawn by the gentleman from Luzerne.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will have to submit four copies of the amendments to the desk.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, there are now upon or were upon the desk and have been passed over the desk four copies of the amendments submitted by the gentleman from Luzerne?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I therefore said that I would submit the amendments which were offered by the gentleman from Luzerne.

Mr. Speaker, I now withdraw my request and offer the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware withdraws his prior request and submits the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 25, by inserting after the word "except" the following: "the production and distribution collection and treatment plans and facilities"

Amend section 1, page 2, line 26 by inserting after the word "transmission" the words "and distribution"

Amend section 1, page 2, line 28, by inserting before the word "rights" the words "lands and"

On the question?

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the question which developed here last night but what was very ably sidetracked by my friend from York Mr. Cohen. He saw the danger signals hanging out and his astuteness is now rewarded by the fact that he was able to get the Democratic members of the House up in the Caucus Room and, in some way, he has been able to iron it out and get these amendments withdrawn. However, it seems to me that the situation has not changed a bit. I have always been opposed to this piece of legislation, because I thought that the legislation was not founded on sound logic. I believe, and I have to support me, wonderful to say, the editorial columns of a certain Philadelphia newspaper which has leanings on the other side from my own. I have that to support me, at least, but I think I have behind it a long history in the State of Pennsylvania.

It has been the custom of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to tax the utilities of this Commonwealth for State purposes and in the 1936 Special Session we added to the amounts which they should pay. The thing that seems to me rather peculiar, and we never seem to be able to get it clearly before some of the members of the House, is the fact that whatever is paid in the way of taxes by the utility has to be paid by the rate payer. We do not take it out of the pocket of some John Q. Utility or out of the pocket of some—I can't think of his name for the moment, but the man out in Chicago or some other man of that kind, but you are taking it out of the pocket of every rate payer in the community.

Now in spite of the fact that you are trying to tear out the present Public Service Commission, and in spite of the fact that you are writing a new public utility bill for the State of Pennsylvania, you have to realize that the present commission has hammered down the rates in Pennsylvania. When you add these taxes you are just placing your new commission in the position—I would like to hand this out so, later, I can have one of those "I-told-you-so's."—you are just putting your new commission in the position that when they go out and ask for a rate reduction they are going to be banged in the nose with the fact that these taxes have been added and, therefore, there will be no rate reduction and the ordinary user is going to pay these taxes. It seems to me you think you are going to relieve the real estate back home but the people who occupy that real estate are the people who use electricity, and water, and gas, and other things, and what is the use of putting up a smoke screen before the people of Pennsylvania, that you are relieving the little homeowner by taking it out of this pocket and putting it around in that pocket. That is the first thing you are trying to do, but the second thing will fool them further. Every community in the State is not going to benefit by this legislation, because in every community there does not exist utility real estate or utility property that can be taxed. True, maybe out in Allegheny County, where they are so hot for this thing, they may get some reductions on real estate and they may fool the people because they cannot see it in their electric bill or their gas bill. They may be able to fool them and make them believe they are getting it off their real estate tax bill, but down in many places of the State of Pennsylvania they are not going to get one penny off their real estate tax bill and they won't get one cent off their utility bills.

So, I say in all fairness as you approach this thing, forget all this hullabaloo about the utilities not paying their fair share. If they are not paying their fair share let us put it where it belongs, in the State tax of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the Lord knows we need the money to run the State of Pennsylvania, but to try and build up this great hullabaloo about the taxes being relieved on the small home owner and relieving real estate taxes in the community, I predict right now that if I am in this House and you fellows are in this House two years from now that the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Holland, will be just as zealous in investigating conditions at the end of the two years as he has been in building it up now; you will find at the end of the two years that there will not be any appreciable reduction in any community in the State of Pennsylvania. If it does come it will come but in a very small number of municipalities where the amount of money that they will receive will be far beyond anything that they expected to get out of it. On the other hand, all the people in the surrounding communities will be paying the freight. Therefore, I feel that these amendments should go into this bill.

I can conceive that there is a sound argument in some places for the taxation of real estate that is used for office buildings or stores or something of that kind; I can conceive that there is a proper place to tax them, but when you come to the generating station and you come to the water power dam in some place and take that and assess that tax in some small community, in many cases a township or a small borough, and you give it to the people there and you go out into the surrounding communities and you tax the people in those surrounding communities, I submit that you are not approaching this problem on a logical basis.

Therefore, I ask you to vote for the amendments.

AMENDMENTS LAID ON TABLE

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN, Mr. Speaker, I move that the amendments submitted by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, be laid upon the table.

On the question?

Will the House agree to the motion?

MOTION TO AMEND

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the motion made by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, so as to provide that the bill, together with the amendments, be laid upon the tbale.

On the question?

Will the House agree to the motion to amend?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HERBERT B COHEN. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in assuming that a vote of "no" means that the amendments offered by the gentleman from Delaware will be defeated and, therefore, the question on my motion will be put and, if carried, the amendments submitted by the gentleman from Delaware will be laid upon the table?

The SPEAKER. That is correct. A "no" vote would defeat the motion to amend by the gentleman from Delaware and then the question will be put on the motion of the gentleman from York.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to amend?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to lay the amendments on the table?

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to section 1?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

An Act to amend section two hundred and one of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 853) entitled "An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subject of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws" making the real estate of public service companies subject to taxation and providing certain exceptions.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1159, as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I asked this morning that this bill be passed oved. There is a patent error in the amendments to the bill.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that there is a flagrant error in the bill, a typographical error, I ask that the bill be passed over in its order.

The SPEAKER. Due to a typographical error in the printing of the bill, the bill at the request of the sponsor, and if there are no objections, will be passed over. The Chair hears no objection and the bill is passed over.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1142, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation from the Game Fund to the State Employes' Retirement Board to meet the obligations of the Commonwealth to the State Employes' Retirement System with respect to the State employes receiving compensation from the Game Fund.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just wish to make a short statement relative to the bill now before the House, which is No. 5 on the calendar, and this statement will also apply to Nos. 6, 7, 13, 26 and 27 on the calendar. These bills appropriate moneys from the various funds that are designated in the bill to the State Employes' Retirement Fund in order to take care of the Commonwealth's contribution for the State Employes to effectuate their retirement proceedings. The bills are the regular bills that are made out each session to expedite the transfer of funds to the Employes' Retirement Fund.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Nays—1

Atkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1366, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section four A.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a very improtant bill, and I wish to bring to the attention of this body United States Senate Bill 1440, a bill that has been presented by Senator Barkley and Buckley as of February 10, 1937.

I understand that this bill has the endorsement of the President of the United States, and that it provides for the control of the flood waters of the rivers of the United States, for the improvement of the navigability of such rivers, for reforestation and conservation of natural resources and for other purposes. Now, this bill sets up seven flood control authorities. The second one is a corporation to be known as the Atlantic Seaboard Authority, which shall have jurisdiction over the areas containing the navigable rivers and their tributaries along the Atlantic Seaboard from Maine to Florida. This bill further more under the powers of the corporation sets forth that it may purchase or lease and hold or dispose of such real and personal property as it deems necessary or convenient in the transaction of its business.

It further sets forth under the powers of the corporation that it shall have the power in the name of the United States of America to exercise the right of eminent domain for all purposes of this Act, and in the acquisition of real estate by condemnation proceedings or otherwise. The title of such real estate shall be taken in the name of the United States of America, and, thereafter, all such real estate shall be entrusted to the corporation as agent of the United States to accomplish the purposes of this Act.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, with the consent of the gentleman from Bucks, I would ask that this bill go over in its order.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, I am perfectly agreeably to that, sir.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1038, Printer's No. 226 was passed over at the request of Mr. BROWN.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 742

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 23, 1937

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the House of Representatives and Senate, recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 742, Printer's No. 177, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GEORGE H. EARLE

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Phliadelphia, Mr. Holmes, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 1, line 14 of the title, by inserting at the end of the line, after the word "thirty-seven," the following: "and making appropriations to the Legislative Department for the legislative session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven"

Legislative Journal.

Session 1937. 132d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 21. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 1937. No. 34.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, March 24, 1937.

The Senate met at 12 o'clock a. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

Our Father, prompted by the monitor within us, we tarry in thy presence, critical and uncertain are the days—and we are in the "Valley of Decision."

Thy law is perfect—Thy testimony sure;
Thy statues are right—Thy commandment pure;
Thy worship is clean, and will ever endure;
Thy judgments righteous, above all things truer;
More to be desired than much fine gold;
Sweeter than nectar, or the honey of old.
Moreover, by them is thy warning given;
And in keeping of them are happiness and Heaven:

Our Father, endue us with Thy wisdom. Make us brave and strong to break the shackles of presumptuous sins. Then shall we rejoice in Thy law, and make Thy lay our own. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding, session, when, on motion of Mr. McCREESH, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Section 3 No condemnation or appropriation of water heretofore made under the power of eminent domain claimed by any municipality corporation copartnership or person authorized to condemn and appropriate water shall be valid or binding unless within twelve (12) months or such further time as the board may grant after the date of approval of this act said municipality or corporation shall produce the record upon which such appropriation or condemnation is founded or prove to the satisfaction of the Water and Power Resources Board that such condemnation was lawfully made in accordance with law at the time said condemnation and appropriation was made and shall thereafter file a transcript or certificate of the. resolution or record upon which said condemnation or appropriation is claimed duly acknowledged by the secretary and president of the municipality corporation copartnership or person in the office of the Water and Power Resources Board In cases where water has been acquired otherwise than by condemnation the municipality corporation copartnership or person shall file with the board a statement setting forth the manner in which the water has been acquired or on what its claim therefor is based Any party aggrieved by a decision of the Water and Power Resources Board may within sixty (60) days appeal therefrom to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and the taking of such appeal shall operate as a supersedeas

Section 4 Hereafter no condemnation or appropriation of streams or the waters thereof for public water supply shall be made by any municipality or corporation possessing the power of eminent domain except as follows

Any such municipalities or corporations desiring to condemn or appropriate new or additional water for public supply purposes for present and future needs shall first make application to the Water and Power Resources Board for leave to acquire designated waters appropriated to the Commonwealth by this act setting forth

1 The present source or sources from which water is now taken listing the streams and the quantity of water appropriated therefrom designating as near as may be the point or points from which water is taken or used and the amounts of water stored

2 The necessity for such new or additional source of supply and the river stream or other body of water from which it is proposed to be taken

3 The location and the population needing the supply

4 The amount of water which it is proposed to take

5 The plans for development of the water resources of the streams to maintain the stream flow and to utilize flood runoff including the capacities of any proposed impounding reservoirs

6 The names and addresses of the lower riparian owners who may be affected by the proposed developments

7 Such other provisions as the Water and Power Resources Board shall deem necessary

Section 5 The Water and Power Resources Board shall upon such application make such investigation as may be necessary and grant such hearing as may be required

The Water and Power Resources Board is hereby given authority upon such application to grant leave to acquire such part of the waters appropriated to the Commonwealth by this act to any such municipality or corporation as said application and the investigation thereon may show to be reasonably necessary to the purpose of the application

Section 6 All permits to acquire such waters of this Commonwealth appropriated by this act hereafter granted by the Water and Power Resources Board under this or any other law of this Commonwealth for public water supply purposes shall be for such term or terms and shall embody such conditions and stipulations as the board may deem necessary and proper to protect the present and future interests of the Commonwealth and its people in the use and distribution of its water resources

The board shall have the further power to revoke any such permit in case the source of water supply applied for is not developed in the manner set forth in the application or required by the permit of the board or if the work is not begun or completed within the time fixed by the board

Section 7 The Water and Power Resources Board shall further have the power to impose by the permit a reasonable charge for the water so permitted to be condemned or acquired pursuant to a grant or allocation of water for public water supply purposes made after the effective date of this act at a rate not exceeding one dollar ($1.00) per million gallons and provide for the collection of the same and to impose such terms and conditions as may be reasonably necessary bearing in mind the character and navigability of the stream and the need of water for other purposes All moneys collected from such charges shall be paid into the State Forests and Waters Fund by and through the Department of Revenue

Section 8 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of the provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein

An Act to amend section five A of Article nineteen of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-one) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" as amended by changing the number and method of appointment of the civil service commissioners in said cities.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is the Mayor of Philadelphia's Civil Service Bill. We all know, I believe, that the Mayor has ben quarreling with the Philadelphia Civil Service Board, and has not been able to have his way with the Civil Service Board; and this bill is to correct that nuisance.

Now, we may always be suspicious of any bill that goes into mourning, as this one does. There are underscore marks, parentheses, and I see here "HC" and "SC". I take "HC" to mean "High Command," and "SC" is either "Senate Complex" or "Supreme Command."

Now, the Democratic Party is out for economy. Why do they change the "three' to "five?" We have had three Civil Service Commissioners perform their functions satisfactorily, and without being overworked; why change their number to five? That is an experiment.

Now, it is always embarrassing as to how to build up a board. I had the honor to be a member of the City Charter Commission, and we sat up over that matter for three or four days, and finally put the matter up to City Council. But that is not always practicable; City Council are, after all, human.

Now, I have introduced a little Civil Service Bill in which the Commission would consist of three members, and I shall therefore be obliged to vote against this embarrassing bill.

Another queer thing about this is, among the many changes in this bill it has come down to two commissioners to be appointed by the Mayor, two by the City Controller, and they appoint the fifth member—sometime. The Governor was to appoint the fifth, but now these four men are to appoint the fifth; no one knows whether he is to be a Republican or Democrat.

I hope my remarks have made a deep impression upon the Senate; and I recognize the fact that, as the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCressh, so wisely said,—my vote don't count anyway.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain Rev. EPHRIAM Z. GALLAHER offered the following prayer:

This week brings us an intensity of religious fervor. God's people celebrate this week the great Passover liberating a race of people from bondage, and we rejoice in that liberation.

Thy people also celebrate on the same day, Holy Day, Good Friday, and Easter Day, the Resurrection of the Lord.

Our Heavenly Father, then may this intense religious fervor be felt throughout the length and breadth of the world, and that these two great days in the life of Christian bodies and the Hebrew people may realize to us and bring to us a freedom that might be extended the world over, and under Thy banner may there be no serpent, and may there be a liberation from sin.

In His name we ask it. Amen.

STATEMENT BY MR. OMINSKY

REPORT ON FAIRMOUNT PARK COMMISSION INVESTIGATION

Mr. OMINSKY asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, some of the members of this House who were present at the last regular session of 1935 will recall that I presented a resolution to investigate the Fairmount Park Commission of the City of Philadelphia. In that resolution I charged among other things that, "the commission was czaristic in its attitude and that it considered itself a law unto itself." At that time I was severely criticized from certain quarters. However, the House voted that a committee should be appointed to investigate these charges and report its findings to this body. This report is now ready and is being presented.

I urge each and every member to read this report carefully and it will be found that startling information has been supplied.

You will ascertain that not only are those charges substantiated but that also charges of a greater magnitude are revealed.

It will be found that there were laxities and irregularities in the running of the commission: That the commission although operating in our present age retained a viewpoint which may be dated back to the late nineteenth century when it came to the matter of developing recreational facilities for which purpose, after all, the park was or should have been created and developed.

When it came to the matter of the purchasing of land and its operation of those facilities, the commission was not only lax but functioned illegally. Reports of their own committees were disregarded.

They created secret payrolls, failed to let concessions of highest bidders, permitted the use of the park house and property rent free, failed to make annual reports and generally paid prices for land way out of line with its actual worth. The commission built an art museum which started with an appropriation of $200,000 and which later was increased to $3,500,000, but up to 1935 actual cost to the city has been $14,694,227 and it is only two-thirds completed. The facts indicate that the total cost will be around $20,000,000 before it is finally completed. Truly we may say that the art museum is the Teapot Dome of Philadelphia.

During all this time the park commission maintained that it had no money for the proper development of the facilities most essential and necessary for the enjoyment of the average citizen of Philadelphia. The report indicates that there were careless accounting methods, misappropriation of funds and other irregularities and therefore it is not my intention to now go into further detail. Suffice is to say that there we have a commission created to serve the public but in reality it is a government in itself, not even subject to review by the appointive body, which in this case is the Board of Judges of the Common Pleas Courts of Philadelphia.

Your committee therefore recommends for your consideration at this time, the following:

1. That an immediate change at this time be deferred so that the problem of park management may be considered in connection with the proposed consolidation of City and County governments of Philadelphia. In connection with this proposal your committee had hoped that in appointing successors to the present commissioners whose terms expire in June 1937, the Board of Judges would consider the facts brought out at the hearings before your committee and also the summary thereof embodied in this report and make a special effort to select interested, capable and well-qualified men. However, on March 5, 1937 while this report was in the hands of the printer and three months before action was necessary, the judges followed their usual routine and reappointed the commissioners for another five year period. This hasty action is unfortunate. It emphasizes the need of a change in the present system.

2. That the present statutes be repealed at this time and that the city charter act be so amended to set up an executive department of public parks and recreations.

3. That the laws creating and relating to the Fairmount Park Commission be repealed and that the parks be taken over by such agency as the legislature may create for that purpose.

It is also the intention of this committee to submit this report to the city solicitor and the district attorney of Philadelphia county with the hope that after a careful study by these officials of Philadelphia that some action may be taken by them with the view that possibly proper surcharges be made against the members of the commission or the estates of former members of the commission or possibly other legal steps may be necessary, if the prosecuting officer of Philadelphia county deems fit and proper at this time.

This report will also be forwarded to the joint legislative committee which is investigating Philadelphia city government at the present time, for their proper consideration and study.

This statement is concurred in by the other two members of the Committee, The Honorable Charles Melchiorre and Honorable Elmer Kilroy, who are present members of this body.

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journals of the House and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal. Copies of this report are printed and are available for the members.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. MURRIN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Motor Vehicles to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. DOWNEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the Committee on Mines and Mining to meet immediately in the Conference Room at the front of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the Committee on Mines and Mining to meet during the session of the House? Are there objections?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Chairman of these committees why they did not hold meetings this morning.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Delaware desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Downey?

Mr. TURNER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. DOWNEY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman why there was not a meeting of the Committee on Mines and Mining this morning.

Mr. DOWNEY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Delaware, I have to say that I did not know they were going to call a meeting until I got to the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think that alibi is a mighty poor one.

The SPEAKER. Are there objections? The Chair hears none, and consent is granted.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the House be at ease until these Committees return.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that we can go ahead with the second reading calendar at this time.
